McNamara To Resign Cabinet Post

★ ★ ★ Will Head World Bank ★ ★ ★

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, for nearly seven years manager of the world's biggest military establishment, is resigning to become president of the World Bank.

McNamara's formal selection as $40,000-a-year president of the international lending institution will come Wednesday when the bank's 20 directors meet at its Washington headquarters.

He will succeed another American George D. Woods.

With President Johnson's approval, McNamara, 51, was secretly nominated for the bank presidency last week. The nomination was made by the United States, which traditionally plays the nominating role because it is the largest single financial contributor to the bank.

Woods' term expires at the end of this year but he has an interim appointment to serve an additional year unless a successor is named earlier. There was no word on just when McNamara would take over, and so it could be early next year—or not for months.

McNamara's impending departure immediately raised speculation that he would be replaced in the defense post by one of Johnson's closest political allies, Texas Gov. John B. Connally, a former secretary of the navy. But Connally, who recently announced he would not seek re-election as governor, said Monday there was no truth to such rumors.

There had been recurrent reports in recent months that McNamara was anxious to leave his Cabinet post, which has often demanded working days of 12 and 18 hours, sometimes seven days a week.

A former president of the Ford Motor Co., McNamara has been defense chief since the inauguration of President John F. Kennedy in January 1961. No other man has held the post that long.

When Johnson became president four years ago, he quickly made it apparent that McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk were particular favorites of his within the Cabinet he inherited from Kennedy.

They became key presidential advisers managing the enlarged war in Vietnam.

With Vietnam now a major item of public controversy and with a presidential election barely 11 months away, it was believed Johnson would have preferred to keep his top war leadership team intact. But he did give his personal approval to McNamara's nomination for the presidency of the bank, known formally as The International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

McNamara has been a stalwart public spokesman for Johnson's Vietnam policies. However, it was understood that within the private councils of government, he frequently has advocated restraint in the conduct of the war.

It has also become known in recent months that McNamara and the Joint Chiefs of Staff have disagreed over the question of wider bombing of North Vietnam, with McNamara opposed to substantially extending the list of targets to be hit. But the bombing has been escalated.

Clarification Of Crisis In Cyprus Due

Turkish Warships Circle Off Island, Disappear In Fog

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Turkish warships circled off the Cyprus coast for two hours today, then disappeared in a fog.

In Athens, a Greek Foreign Ministry spokesman said the crisis between Greece and Turkey over this island will be clarified before the day is out with either an agreement or possible war.

The statement was made as all three international negotiators striving to get Greece and Turkey together assembled in Athens with reports on their talks in Ankara and in Cyprus.

The ships remained off the resort of Kyrenia for about two hours. Their arrival set off fears that a Turkish invasion of Cyprus was imminent.

But in Ankara, an informant said the ships were conducting "a normal exercise." He said they departed from the Turkish port of Mersin at 2:30 a.m.

U.N. peace force observers at Kyrenia, 15 miles north of Nicosia, said between six to eight ships were within Cyprus' 12-mile limit of territorial waters.

When the line of vessels appeared from the north, two Cyprus navy torpedo boats rushed from Kyrenia harbor for shelter in the lee of a small island beyond the breakwater.

The Turkish ships steamed slowly toward the northwest, made a leisurely circle, headed back from where they came and disappeared out of sight under a light fog.

The exercise appeared to be a new threat of force, to pressure Greece in the tense diplomatic negotiations with Turkey.

Sheriff Files Affidavits

Deem, Nesbitt Will Face 2 New Robbery Charges

East Liverpool and Wellsville men already confronted with charges in connection with holdups of a Klondyke diner were named today in affidavits filed by Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan accusing them of October robberies at Saltsman's Pharmacy on the Calcutta - Smiths Ferry Rd. and the Gilmore Sinclair Service Station on State Route 267 at Cannons Mills Rd. in Glenmoor.

William Lawrence Nesbitt, 21, formerly of East Liverpool, and George Deem Jr., 38, of 800 Broadway, Wellsville, were named in unarmed robbery charges filed by the sheriff in Judge Barry Dickson's County Court at East Palestine. Each man is accused in connection with both of the robberies.

The drugstore was robbed of $67 on Oct. 14 and the service station was robbed of $130 on Oct. 10.

NESBITT already faces two counts of armed robbery in Municipal Court in connection with stickups Oct. 9 and Oct. 20 at the Little Diner at 1901 Harvey Ave. The affidavits allege he obtained $80 on Oct. 9 and $35 on Oct. 20. Mrs. Nellie Taylor, the proprietor, was the robbery victim in both cases.

Deem is charged with "aiding and abetting" Nesbitt in the Oct. 20 holdup at the diner. Officers here allege that he furnished a pistol which Nesbitt used in the stickup and that he also drove the getaway car.

Police said the revelations about the Calcutta and Glenmoor holdups came in the investigation of the Klondyke cases. Nesbitt allegedly gave a statement to Patrolman William A. Devon, one of the investigators, in which he admitted the robberies at Calcutta and Glenmoor. He gave a similar statement to the sheriff yesterday afternoon.

The case began to crack last Wednesday afternoon when Devon and Capt. Kenneth H. Mooney located Nesbitt at the Waterford Park Race Track, where he had been living and working as a stable hand. He waived extradition Monday in Hancock County Circuit Court at New Cumberland and was returned to East Liverpool.

—:—

NESBITT formerly lived at the YMCA and on W. 7th St., police said.

Deem was taken into custody late Wednesday night at his home in Wellsville by Patrolman Charles Amato, acting on a warrant issued by East Liverpool police.

Nesbitt and Deem were taken before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff in Municipal Court today for preliminary hearings in connection with the Klondyke cases.

All the charges were continued until next Monday because Nesbitt was not represented by counsel. His $10,000 bond was continued, as was Deem's.

Deem, represented by Joseph Baronzzi of Lisbon, entered a not guilty plea. The judge overruled a defense motion for a reduction of Deem's bond, ordering it continued at $10,000. The judge pointed out that Deem "now is on probation in this court" in connection with fraudulent check charges.

Five Hit-Run Attacks Made By Viet Cong

Raid 2 South Viet Air Bases, Set Fire To Planes, Copters

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command today reported five more Viet Cong hit-and-run attacks scattered across South Vietnam. Ground fighting also was renewed in a coastal lowlands valley in the northern part of the country.

"It's a kind of cyclic thing," one U.S. officer said of the rash of harassing attacks that began last Saturday. "They are no worse than they have been several times this year. There is no real pattern to this. There's no telling what they're up to."

In the air war against North Vietnam, the northeast monsoons limited American pilots to 117 missions Monday but the targets included two Red air bases, a third uncompleted airfield used for storage and a barracks area.

The Viet Cong, in their latest hit-and-run attacks raided two U.S.-South Vietnamese air bases, a South Vietnamese junk base, a government subsector headquarters and a national police station.

The guerrillas set fire to four light observation planes, burned up one helicopter and damaged three others, sank one junk and damaged another. At the subsector headquarters, they inflicted heavy damage on an electric power house, a water company and the information office.

While material damage was moderate to heavy, casualties were light. At least two military men were killed and eight others wounded, including one American killed and five Americans wounded.

This type of warfare intensified in the wake of the three-week battle at Dak To with 14 mortar assaults Saturday in the Mekong Delta. Over the weekend, the Communists also hit two U.S. Special Forces camps, the U.S. Air Base at Nha Trang and two American artillery bases in the central highlands.

Knife Holds Rabies Peril For Thieves

Thieves who broke into the Hancock County Health Department at New Cumberland must decide whether they want to give themselves up and receive medical treatment or stand the risk of contracting rabies.

Taken was some $4,000 worth of laboratory equipment during the Thanksgiving holiday weekend. The thieves used one of the laboratory knives to pry open a door.

New Cumberland Police Chief William Webster pointed out Monday that the knife had been used to dissect carcasses of rabid animals and was infected. He urged the thieves to seek medical attention immediately.

The thieves apparently entered through an unlocked basement door, Webster said, and then found a hatchet and the knife to pry the main door.

Taken from the office were office and laboratory equipment, including typewriters, adding machines, a movie projector, microscope and dentistry equipment.

Appeals Court Will Hear Home Case Plea Monday

LISBON — A case dealing with the superintendency of the Columbiana County Home is one of four scheduled to be heard by the Seventh District Court of Appeals next Monday in session here.

Robert W. and Gladys M. Boyce, acting superintendent and matron at the home since October 1965 under provisional appointment, filed the mandamus action Aug. 2 in the Appellate Court against the county commisioners and the Ohio Department of State Personnel.

Their action followed by one week the commissioners' appointment of Joseph and Rosemond Mattevi of Lisbon RD 4 to the posts. The appointments were to have been effective Aug. 15, but the Appellate Court stayed them until further order.

The Boyces asked that the department of state personnel be ordered to certify on an eligible list "the names only of the Boyces as the only eligible and qualified applicants" for the jobs and "that the county commissioners be ordered to appoint the Boyces and to do that which the law requires them to do or to show cause before this court why they have not done so."

The court will hear a motion to quash service of summons filed by Wayne Ward, director of the department of state personnel. Ward claims "this action is not properly brought in Columbiana County against this defendant and this court has no jurisdiction over this defendant."

Ward's office is in Columbus, Franklin County.

The county commissioners have a motion before the court "that in the event this court sustains the motion to quash, that the entire proceedings, in the event the plaintiffs elect to proceed further, be transferred to the Franklin County Court of Appeals to avoid a multiplicity of suits."

Appellants in the other cases are:

Steve Hodos of 2658 Hunter St., Youngstown, from conviction and sentence Feb. 16 in Eastern Court at East Palestine on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol;

Cold Weather To Keep Grip Upon District

No relief is in sight at least through Wednesday from the cold weather gripping the tri-state area.

The forecast calls for cloudy, windy and continued cold, with scattered snow flurries, tonight through Wednesday. Tonight's low is to range between 18 and 23.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, reported an official low of 20 last night. It was 23 in downtown East Liverpool early this morning.

Area residents, despite the cold, are "living good" weatherwise when some other parts of the U.S. are considered.

Frigid arctic air maintained a tight grip on much of the country today and touched off locally heavy snow squalls from the Great Lakes into New England.

Accompanied by strong westerly winds, the squalls left up to three inches of snow on the ground from New York to Maine.

Seven inches of snow had fallen in Boonville, N. Y., in seven hours, with 18 inches reported on the ground. Thirteen inches was reported on the ground at Hancock, Mich., in the pper peninsula.

Travelers' warnings for snow, freezing rain or sleet were in effect from Eastern New Mexico, western Texas and Oklahoma northward to het mountain areas of Wyoming and Colora-

Police Stakeout Pays Off

Same Car Stolen Twice; Pair Nabbed In 2nd Theft

An East Liverpool physician's auto was stolen twice within a brief space early Monday night, leading to the arrest of two teen-age boys who took the car the second time under the eyes of an unobtrusive police stakeout.

Police said the two juveniles were pursued and apprehended by Patrolmen James Woods and Dwight Garvey and charged with theft of the 1965 sports model convertible owned by Dr. Melbourne P. Burnett of Skyview Manor near Park Way Ext.

The unusual chain of circumstances began at 6:22 p.m. when Dr. Burnett told officers the auto had been stolen from the physician's parking lot at City Hospital.

Seven minutes later, Garvey spotted the car parked at Market and 2nd Sts. The family was notified to reclaim the auto. But Garvey suspected that the person or persons who parked the auto might return, not knowing it had been spotted by police.

Garvey and Woods set up an unobtrusive stakeout in the area and awaited developments.

About 7:22, the two juveniles appeared and drove away in the car. Garvey and Woods followed as the car moved west on W. 2nd St. The suspects abandoned the auto at Jefferson and W. 2nd Sts. as police closed in.

The oficers gave chase, nab-

Bishop, Foe Of Reds, Claimed In Hungary

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican has reported the death in Hungary of Bishop Jozsef Petery, a foe of the Communist regime who had been barred from performing his church functions for the last 14 years.

Bishop Petery, 77, was bishop of VAC and a close associated of Jozef Cardinal Mindszenty, the Hungarian primate who has been a refugee in the U.S. Embassy in Budapest since 1956.

The Vatican did not say when Bishop Petery died. He was interned by the Communist authorities in 1953 for refusing to accept government interference in his diocese, the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said, and in recent years had been confined to the town of Hejce.

'Deer' Me What Luck

BRADFORD, Pa. (AP) —Mrs. Harold Little's first hunting trip Monday went like this:

Mrs. Little turned and saw a buck bearing down on her. She fired. Her gun barrel jammed with mud from the creek—burst.

Cold Weather To Keep Grip Upon District

No relief is in sight at least through Wednesday from the cold weather gripping the tri-state area.

The forecast calls for cloudy, windy and continued cold, with scattered snow flurries, tonight through Wednesday. Tonight's low is to range between 18 and 23.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, reported an official low of 20 last night. It was 23 in downtown East Liverpool early this morning.

Area residents, despite the cold, are "living good" weatherwise when some other parts of the U.S. are considered.

Frigid arctic air maintained a tight grip on much of the country today and touched off locally heavy snow squalls from the Great Lakes into New England.

Accompanied by strong westerly winds, the squalls left up to three inches of snow on the ground from New York to Maine.

Seven inches of snow had fallen in Boonville, N. Y., in seven hours, with 18 inches reported on the ground. Thirteen inches was reported on the ground at Hancock, Mich., in the pper peninsula.

Travelers' warnings for snow, freezing rain or sleet were in effect from Eastern New Mexico, western Texas and Oklahoma northward to het mountain areas of Wyoming and Colora-

Police Stakeout Pays Off

Same Car Stolen Twice; Pair Nabbed In 2nd Theft

An East Liverpool physician's auto was stolen twice within a brief space early Monday night, leading to the arrest of two teen-age boys who took the car the second time under the eyes of an unobtrusive police stakeout.

Police said the two juveniles were pursued and apprehended by Patrolmen James Woods and Dwight Garvey and charged with theft of the 1965 sports model convertible owned by Dr. Melbourne P. Burnett of Skyview Manor near Park Way Ext.

The unusual chain of circumstances began at 6:22 p.m. when Dr. Burnett told officers the auto had been stolen from the physician's parking lot at City Hospital.

Seven minutes later, Garvey spotted the car parked at Market and 2nd Sts. The family was notified to reclaim the auto. But Garvey suspected that the person or persons who parked the auto might return, not knowing it had been spotted by police.

Garvey and Woods set up an unobtrusive stakeout in the area and awaited developments.

About 7:22, the two juveniles appeared and drove away in the car. Garvey and Woods followed as the car moved west on W. 2nd St. The suspects abandoned the auto at Jefferson and W. 2nd Sts. as police closed in.

The oficers gave chase, nab-

Bishop, Foe Of Reds, Claimed In Hungary

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican has reported the death in Hungary of Bishop Jozsef Petery, a foe of the Communist regime who had been barred from performing his church functions for the last 14 years.

Bishop Petery, 77, was bishop of VAC and a close associated of Jozef Cardinal Mindszenty, the Hungarian primate who has been a refugee in the U.S. Embassy in Budapest since 1956.

The Vatican did not say when Bishop Petery died. He was interned by the Communist authorities in 1953 for refusing to accept government interference in his diocese, the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said, and in recent years had been confined to the town of Hejce.

'Deer' Me What Luck

BRADFORD, Pa. (AP) —Mrs. Harold Little's first hunting trip Monday went like this:

She saw her first deer and took off in pursuit, stumbling headlong into a creek. She climbed out and continued the chase. Then she heard something chasing her.

Mrs. Little turned and saw a buck bearing down on her. She fired. Her gun barrel jammed with mud from the creek—burst.

But the bullet struck home. Mrs. Little, 23, was uninjured and took to her Bradford home a handsome trophy—a 130-pound, 8-point buck.

Report Slated On Hot Lunch

A report on the operation of the much - criticized school hot lunch program in Hancock County will be presented the Board of Education Thursday night.

Crawford Cameron, previously delegated by Supt. Robert Hall to conduct an investigation of the program, told the board Monday night he has completed that phase of his work and currently is preparing a report.

Members, as well as Hall, expressed concern in the past over conditions of the program and the lack of clear reports on what is being done to deplete the large inventory the program had on hand at the end of the spring term.

Hall told the board the program director, Lawrence Zeidler, is in the hospital and no one presently is in charge.

He report on plans to send one school employe, who has previous experience in such programs with the Army, to act as overseer.

The board expressed concern over that move since members said the schools already have declared the program can be operated by Hall and a second person until Zeidler returns.

At the insistence of Dr. Eli Weller, the board also deferred payment of bills accumulated by the program until the report is received. He added as a board member he does not want to be responsible for bills until he can review the study.

Dr. Weller also said he wants an auditor to check the program. The board decided it could not pinpoint the ills of the program, only that it is not functioning properly. The board authorized Hall to contract for the essentials to keep the program in operation pending Cameron's report.

BLUE GEMS

Many men and women when asked "what is your favorite color" will answer "blue". Certainly gemstones of blue are perennially popular in fine jewelry. One of the loveliest, I think, is the brilliant blue Zircon. Unfortunately, many think of this as being a diamond substitute on even a synthetic gem.

The Zircon has a fine history dating from Biblical times. They are usually found in exalted company in the area where rubies, garnets and sapphires are mined. Ceylon for many years was our chief source for this stone. It is very brilliant and occurs in several colors, the most notable being a pale yellow, red and leaf green. The brown crystals when treated are the ones that turn a brilliant steely blue. The colorless Zircon comes closest among natural stones to resembling the diamond.

However, it is the blue Zircon that is most generally made up into outstanding jewelry pieces and dramatic rings. It combines well with diamonds and rubies, and is pleasing to the eye set in either white or yellow golds. As one of the alternate birthstones for the December-born it was believed to cure insomnia, apparently not a uniquely twentieth century affliction.

The other birthstone associated with December is the turquoise which has been a favorite gemstone of the West for hundreds of years. Wearing turquoise was believed in medieval times to bring success in love and money.

Report Slated On Hot Lunch

A report on the operation of the much - criticized school hot lunch program in Hancock County will be presented the Board of Education Thursday night.

Crawford Cameron, previously delegated by Supt. Robert Hall to conduct an investigation of the program, told the board Monday night he has completed that phase of his work and currently is preparing a report.

Members, as well as Hall, expressed concern in the past over conditions of the program and the lack of clear reports on what is being done to deplete the large inventory the program had on hand at the end of the spring term.

Hall told the board the program director, Lawrence Zeidler, is in the hospital and no one presently is in charge.

He report on plans to send one school employe, who has previous experience in such programs with the Army, to act as overseer.

The board expressed concern over that move since members said the schools already have declared the program can be operated by Hall and a second person until Zeidler returns.

At the insistence of Dr. Eli Weller, the board also deferred payment of bills accumulated by the program until the report is received. He added as a board member he does not want to be responsible for bills until he can review the study.

Dr. Weller also said he wants an auditor to check the program. The board decided it could not pinpoint the ills of the program, only that it is not functioning properly. The board authorized Hall to contract for the essentials to keep the program in operation pending Cameron's report.

BLUE GEMS

Many men and women when asked "what is your favorite color" will answer "blue". Certainly gemstones of blue are perennially popular in fine jewelry. One of the loveliest, I think, is the brilliant blue Zircon. Unfortunately, many think of this as being a diamond substitute on even a synthetic gem.

The Zircon has a fine history dating from Biblical times. They are usually found in exalted company in the area where rubies, garnets and sapphires are mined. Ceylon for many years was our chief source for this stone. It is very brilliant and occurs in several colors, the most notable being a pale yellow, red and leaf green. The brown crystals when treated are the ones that turn a brilliant steely blue. The colorless Zircon comes closest among natural stones to resembling the diamond.

However, it is the blue Zircon that is most generally made up into outstanding jewelry pieces and dramatic rings. It combines well with diamonds and rubies, and is pleasing to the eye set in either white or yellow golds. As one of the alternate birthstones for the December-born it was believed to cure insomnia, apparently not a uniquely twentieth century affliction.

The other birthstone associated with December is the turquoise which has been a favorite gemstone of the West for hundreds of years. Wearing turquoise was believed in medieval times to bring success in love and money.

It's Not Really That Personal

It is fortunate for President Johnson that he cannot disguise himself and mingle with his countrymen, to hear what they are saying about him.

Many remarks are as bitter as those that blistered the air when Franklin D. Roosevelt was in the White House. There is another more significant similarity.

Many of the things said about FDR, like many of the things said about Herbert Hoover, were for political purposes only. Popular feeling is not as personal as it sounds.

If Lyndon Johnson is catching it hotter and heavier than is usual in the case of chief executives of the White House, it is because he is in the White House during a time of unusually strong feeling. He is not personally more culpable than presidents usually are.

It is impossible to agree on anything at this particular time, except this: Traditional standards of thought and behavior are being challenged with unprecedented vigor.

The nation is bogged down in a war it does not understand.

It is tied in knots over an international money crisis that even experts do not understand.

Its citizens under 30 are looking disapprovingly at citizens over 30 and vice versa.

Being liberal with other people's money is coming under the disapproving scrutiny of skeptics who question details of social programs formerly held to be off limits.

If President Johnson needs something to buoy him up when his spirits sag, he can logically believe that no chief executice would be marching forward under flying colors in these circumstances.

Kennedy legend couldn't have saved John F. Kennedy from a public opinion battering under the same circumstances. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry Truman couldn't have weathered it.

Presidents are whipping boys and scapegoats for popular wrath in the United States. President Johnson is finding out how it works.

It's not as personal as it seems. That is scant comfort for a president wincing under the lash of adverse opinion. But that's the way it is.

Think Winter

Despite repeated temperature dives into the teens, numerous flurries and dire weather stories out of the west, there are many homeowners and motorists in the tri-state area not ready for winter.

Storm windows are not all up, snow treads are not on the car, rock salt and ashes are not stored, shovels not sharpened, strayed gloves unsought.

Worse, the proper attitude about winter is not yet developed — too many people are in a shirt-sleeve frame of mind, worrying about grass, hikes in the country, washing the family auto.

The season change is just a little more than three weeks away. Face up to reality, check the anti-freeze and don't let Old Man W. catch you with your snow fences down.

Like Owning A Gold Mine

Not even money experts agree on the significance of gold in the monetary scheme of things, yet it is desirable that everybody should realize why gold suddenly has become a paramount importance.

Token currency is in a state of flux relative to the things it will buy. A British pound, for example, is worth less in terms of U.S. dollars than it was worth before it was devalued 14 per cent.

This devaluation in terms of dollars was the ultimate result of devaluation in terms of true value. British pounds had been declining in terms of purchasing power. Inflation has been devaluing British currency.

American dollars also have been declining in purchasing power.

What appears to be a rise in prices is not really what commonly is signified by the phrase "price rise." That is to say, nothing has made things more truly valuable.

What has happened is that years of deficit spending by profligate administrations in this country have cheapened dollars. Goods and services that formerly would have been purchased for $1 now cost $1.50, because half the purchasing power of each dollar has been destroyed by inflation.

This decline in true value has caused French President Charles de Gaulle to advocate increased dependence on gold, instead of token currency, as an international money standard. France has been exchanging its own dollar credits in international exchange for actual gold taken out of Fort Knox and shipped to France —"as good as gold."

De Gaulle is hoping to come out of the monetary hurly-burley with enough French gold to re-establish France as a major financial power. He is counting on the United States to be unable to stem its own profligate spending.

Meanwhile, another stock phrase stands out stark and clear above the international clamor about money:

It's like "owning a gold mine."

That would be the thing to own right now.

Purely Personal Observations

Remembering stories of hunters shooting dogs for failure afield, I stood up and cheered when I read that two hunters in Nebraska had been shot by their own dogs in mishaps involving loaded guns accidentally discharged.

Many a Vietnam hero who never heard of King Pyrrhus of Epirus now knows what a Pyrrhic victory is—the kind that bloodied a meaningless hill in a mighty victory that no one could afford to win again.

I wonder if my Great Good Government is doing that TV gadgetragedy called "Mission Impossible" so it, too, can cope with the smartly superior intelligence and clout of the kiddies.

Any discussion of education arrives eventually at the quandary no one knows how to get out of. What can we do in a country where everybody votes and has citizen rights with people who cannot be educated to carry the responsibilities of their citizenship?

For a more perfect society I hope to form a club, qualified critics will wear badges to show their qualification—and all other carping quivers and complainers can be disregarded when they shoot off their mouths about matters beyond their competency.

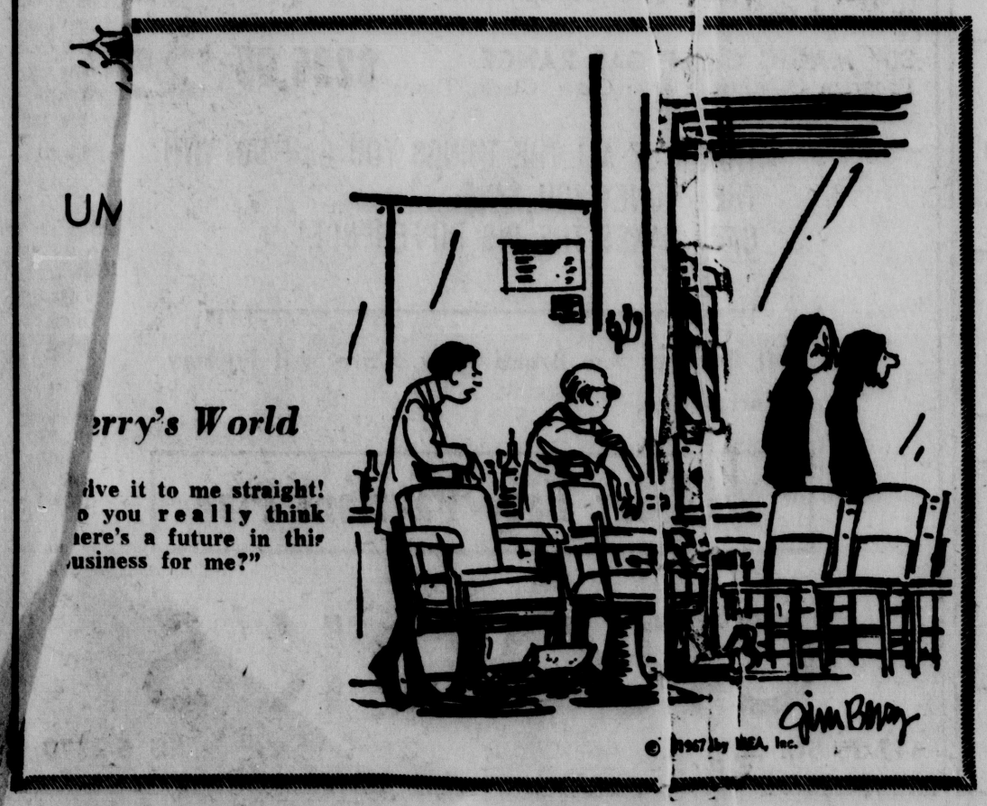

The bunch that crucifixion ceremony in Dallas have cooled off the throbs of a lot of young girls in this country who were attracted by the idea of hobnobbing with the kind of toughs who have kicked over all pretense of decency.

That poisoning tragedy in Colombia started when a container of parathion was loaded on the same truck transporting flour and subsequently broke and spilled. Reminded me of what used to happen in the bad old days when groceries were loaded next to the kerosene can and absorbed the aroma of Rockefeller juice.

I would not be the least bit surprised if Robert Kennedy tinted his hair, because when I saw it at arm's length range last spring it didn't look the way it looked on his most recent TV appearance, when it came through the tube reddish brown.

Don't look now, fellow citizens, but when we tell business and industry they must give idle people something to do we are admitting that technological unemployment has caught up to us, just as the worry-warts said it would when machine power began to displace manpower?

It costs as much as three times more to send a student to a voluntary college as to a tax-supported school—and who pays for the difference? Every taxpayer. I can think of no reason to soak ordinary taxpayers for the higher education of children of well-to-do families.

Still Up In The Air

They Remember!

By Art Buchwald

TOKYO — I had occasion to visit Japan last week, and I am happy to report that Japanese-American relations have never been better. When Premier Sato was leaving to visit the United States, Tokyo University students tried to stop him from going by demonstrating at the airport. It wasn't that they had anything against Sato's visit to the United States. They just love their premier so much, they just coudn't stand to say goodbye.

Art Buchwald

The big issue in Japan vis-a-vis the United States is Okinawa. The Japanese would like the U.S. to return Okinawa to them after all these years. The United States is willing to do it only if Japan will take South Vietnam at the same time in a package deal. But the Japanese are reluctant to take the U.S. up on it. As one Japanese diplomat put it: "We'd rather commit harakiri first."

Another sore point of Japanese-American relations is that the United States wants Japan to pay more of its own money for its defense and also to do more to rearm for the future.

THE JAPANESE refuse to listen, and one Tokyo taxi driver high in government circles told me why.

He said, "Japanese no want to rearm!"

"Why not?" I asked him

"We remember Pearl Harbor."

"Pearl Harbor, schmerl harbor," I protested. "It's about time the Japanese built up their own defense system."

"Ah-so. You crazy or something?" he said. "We promised Gen. MacArthur we would be peace-loving people. In 1945 we vowed death to the imperialist military clique and a plague on all war."

"But the promises MacArthur exacted from you in 1945 is one thing, and what we want you to do now is another. Aren't you worried about the yellow peril at all?"

"Not much," he admitted. "What yellow peril are you talking about?"

"The billions of Chinese armed with nuclear weapons ready to swoop down on all of Southeast Asia."

"Oh, that yellow peril. Frankly, that's not our problem. The United States taught us that anybody that goes to war is crazy. Take a look at Hiroshima and Nagasaki if you don't believe me."

"But that was a bad war."

"Why was it a bad war?" he asked.

"BECAUSE YOU were the enemy. Now that you're our allies we have no objection to your building up a strong military complex to defend yourselves. There are good wars and bad wars. If you were on our side, you'd be involved in a good war."

"No thank you, venerable taxi rider. Imperial military clique got us into too much trouble last time. Besides, how do you know that if we rearm and get strong militarily we won't bomb Pearl Harbor again?"

"You'd have to promise not to."

"We did the last time, but that didn't stop us from doing it."

"If there's anything I hate," I said angrily, "it's a Japanese dove."

"So sorry, honorable American, but the only thing Japanese people learned from World War II is that there is more money to be made in cameras."

"But how are you going to contain China with cameras?"

"That's your problem. After all, you won World War II, so you have to take care of us."

"Well, if you want to know the truth," I said, "I'm sorry we beat you in World War II."

"You should have thought of that before."

Not So Merry For LBJ

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Besides the packages of trouble stacked under the tree, the tree itself is trimmed with monotony. So this will not be President Johnson's happiest Christmas.

For a while, after it became clear American forces in Vietnam were going to have to stay quite a while, there was a bustle and fervor about the criticism dumped on Johnson.

It came from all directions, including Congress, in the form of denunciation of American involvement or a variety of proposed solutions, although only Johnson, not the critics, would have the task of applying the solutions.

Neither Johnson nor those around him have been any match, in the multitude of their answers, for the vaster multitude of criticisms.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, probably more than anyone in the administration, has talked the most in defense of the administration and the war. But now he sounds like a broken record. So do the critics.

It's the same thing over and over on both sides.

JUST BEFORE Thanksgiving, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, visited Johnson here and went around spreading optimism. But it won't help Johnson's Christmas much.

He was predicting the beginning of a U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam in two years.

But by then the 1968 presidential election will be long over and it's the election Johnson has to begin worrying about now, in addition to the war.

It's easy to say Johnson has it made anyway, that the Democratic party, no matter how unhappy it may be over having Johnson run again, can hardly deny renomination to a president. But it has happened before.

At the moment public opinion polls show public confidence in him at an all-time low. Worse than that, from his viewpoint, it's hard to see how he can increase that confidence unless the war takes an unexpectedly good turn.

Sunday in the New York Sunday Times there was a two-page ad, both pages packed with the names of men and women, paid for by an organization calling itself Dissenting Democrats working to deny Johnson renomination in 1968.

As of now he doesn't know how much opposition he is going to have within the party. So far only Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota has indicated he may run for the nomination.

McCarthy may not be a major stumbling block for Johnson. Although he is called an intellectual — he is a former teacher — McCarthy does not have a distinguished record in Congress and he sounds vague on answers about Vietnam.

HE SPOKE Sunday of a White House policy of taking action without consulting Congress and said it comes "very close to a four - year dictatorship." If he meant Johnson moved U.S. forces into Vietnam without consulting Congress, he's wrong, and he should know it.

In the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin resolution which Congress approved, giving Johnson a go-ahead to use the armed forces as he thought necessary to repel Communist aggression in Vietnam, the Senate vote was 88 to 2 and the House vote 416 to 0.

McCarthy was one of the 88 who voted for the resolution. Like other senators who did the same, he has regrets now, and has no hesitancy about lambasting Johnson.

Since they will probably continue doing it, or some of them will, in the 1968 campaign, Johnson will have this on his back all the way. But that's not all.

There's no reason to think Negro riots won't be just as big next year as they were in 1967, and probably worse. But they occur in the summer in which, if Johnson gets renominated, he will have to start his campaign.

No president in recent memory — except Herbert Hoover in the 1932 depression and Harry S. Truman in 1948 — will have started thinking of a second term under as many handicaps as Johnson. Truman made it, Hoover didn't.

This 'n That

Ancient Egypt worshiped birds and used their images as characters in hieroglyphics. Thousands of mummified birds have been found in burial vaults.

The first book printed in the American colonies of which copies are still known to us was the Bay Psalm Book.

Zebra stripes are like human fingerprints—no two markings are alike.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Seeing Red

President Johnson is showing concern about Communist activity in the United States, particularly as it relates to anti-Vietnam War demonsrations.

At a conference with Republican leaders, he read them a secret report which described Communist involvement in the march on the Pentagon Oct. 21.

Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, Republican leader in the House, made reference to this report in a speech and urged that it be made public. He said:

"If the evidence in the hands of the executive branch of our government indicates manipulation of the peace movement in this country by Hanoi, then the propaganda impact of such demonstrations will be lessened and perhaps destroyed. This would be a highly beneficial result, indeed."

PERSONS FAMILIAR with this document say it does not add much to what is already known about Communist efforts in helping to mobilize the march on the Pentagon. This correspondent has referred to articles in the Communist newspaper published in New York which gave details about arrangements for the demonstration at the Pentagon and outlined the bus and train facilities that had been designated for those who wanted to join in the rally.

Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, Democratic leader in the House, in a speech in Atlanta said "the marchers included every Communist and Communist sympathizer in the United States who was able to make the trip."

While Rep. Albert said he did not have knowledge of the document referred to by Rep. Ford, it is evident that in general the two party leaders feel the Communists are meddling in American internal affairs and this should be exposed.

It's natural for the Moscow government to use its agents in this country to influence public opinion and particularly to intensify opposition to the Vietnam War.

But the surprising aspect of the affair is not that the Soviets are resorting to such tactics but that they've been able to get away with it so long without public disapproval or governmental action that would direct attention to their mischief-making.

There appears to be no doubt that some organizations in this country, including many of those which took part in the Pentagon march, are sincere in their opposition to the Vietnam War and do not need instigation by Communists.

But there are lots of people not normally identified with pacifist demonstrations who are misled by Communist tactics.

THE AMERICAN people are not aware of the activities of the Soviet government throughout the world — its incessant propaganda characterizing the United States as an "aggressor" — or of the vast amounts of money being spent in supplying the Hanoi government with munitions of war, including airplanes, mortars and other weapons which trained Soviet technicians help the North Vietnamese to use.

Despite all the hostile acts of the Russians, the United States has consented to the operation of an airline beween Moscow and New York City, which undoubtedly will be used for more rapid transmission of intelligence information and secret data as well as transport of subversive agents to this country in larger numbers than ever before.

American policy toward Communist activities remains one of indifference largely because of a belief that sooner or later the Soviets will change their attitude and become more friendly to the United States.

The Moscow government has enough influence and power in Hanoi to bring about a cessation of the Vietnam War overnight. There are no signs of such a move.

It's Not Really That Personal

It is fortunate for President Johnson that he cannot disguise himself and mingle with his countrymen, to hear what they are saying about him.

Many remarks are as bitter as those that blistered the air when Franklin D. Roosevelt was in the White House. There is another more significant similarity.

Many of the things said about FDR, like many of the things said about Herbert Hoover, were for political purposes only. Popular feeling is not as personal as it sounds.

If Lyndon Johnson is catching it hotter and heavier than is usual in the case of chief executives of the White House, it is because he is in the White House during a time of unusually strong feeling. He is not personally more culpable than presidents usually are.

It is impossible to agree on anything at this particular time, except this: Traditional standards of thought and behavior are being challenged with unprecedented vigor.

The nation is bogged down in a war it does not understand.

It is tied in knots over an international money crisis that even experts do not understand.

Its citizens under 30 are looking disapprovingly at citizens over 30 and vice versa.

Being liberal with other people's money is coming under the disapproving scrutiny of skeptics who question details of social programs formerly held to be off limits.

If President Johnson needs something to buoy him up when his spirits sag, he can logically believe that no chief executice would be marching forward under flying colors in these circumstances.

Kennedy legend couldn't have saved John F. Kennedy from a public opinion battering under the same circumstances. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry Truman couldn't have weathered it.

Presidents are whipping boys and scapegoats for popular wrath in the United States. President Johnson is finding out how it works.

It's not as personal as it seems. That is scant comfort for a president wincing under the lash of adverse opinion. But that's the way it is.

Think Winter

Despite repeated temperature dives into the teens, numerous flurries and dire weather stories out of the west, there are many homeowners and motorists in the tri-state area not ready for winter.

Storm windows are not all up, snow treads are not on the car, rock salt and ashes are not stored, shovels not sharpened, strayed gloves unsought.

Worse, the proper attitude about winter is not yet developed — too many people are in a shirt-sleeve frame of mind, worrying about grass, hikes in the country, washing the family auto.

The season change is just a little more than three weeks away. Face up to reality, check the anti-freeze and don't let Old Man W. catch you with your snow fences down.

Like Owning A Gold Mine

Not even money experts agree on the significance of gold in the monetary scheme of things, yet it is desirable that everybody should realize why gold suddenly has become a paramount importance.

Token currency is in a state of flux relative to the things it will buy. A British pound, for example, is worth less in terms of U.S. dollars than it was worth before it was devalued 14 per cent.

This devaluation in terms of dollars was the ultimate result of devaluation in terms of true value. British pounds had been declining in terms of purchasing power. Inflation has been devaluing British currency.

American dollars also have been declining in purchasing power.

What appears to be a rise in prices is not really what commonly is signified by the phrase "price rise." That is to say, nothing has made things more truly valuable.

What has happened is that years of deficit spending by profligate administrations in this country have cheapened dollars. Goods and services that formerly would have been purchased for $1 now cost $1.50, because half the purchasing power of each dollar has been destroyed by inflation.

This decline in true value has caused French President Charles de Gaulle to advocate increased dependence on gold, instead of token currency, as an international money standard. France has been exchanging its own dollar credits in international exchange for actual gold taken out of Fort Knox and shipped to France —"as good as gold."

De Gaulle is hoping to come out of the monetary hurly-burley with enough French gold to re-establish France as a major financial power. He is counting on the United States to be unable to stem its own profligate spending.

Meanwhile, another stock phrase stands out stark and clear above the international clamor about money:

It's like "owning a gold mine."

That would be the thing to own right now.

Purely Personal Observations

Remembering stories of hunters shooting dogs for failure afield, I stood up and cheered when I read that two hunters in Nebraska had been shot by their own dogs in mishaps involving loaded guns accidentally discharged.

Many a Vietnam hero who never heard of King Pyrrhus of Epirus now knows what a Pyrrhic victory is—the kind that bloodied a meaningless hill in a mighty victory that no one could afford to win again.

I wonder if my Great Good Government is using that TV gadgetragedy called "Mission Impossible" so it, too, can cope with the apparently superior intelligence and clout of the kiddies.

In my discussion of education arrives eventually the quandary no one knows how to get around. What can we do in a country where everybody votes and has citizen rights with people who cannot be educated to carry the responsibilities of their citizenship?

In a more perfect society I hope to form [illegible], qualified critics will wear badges showing their qualification—and all other quivers and complainers can be disregarded when they shoot off their mouths about matters beyond their competency.

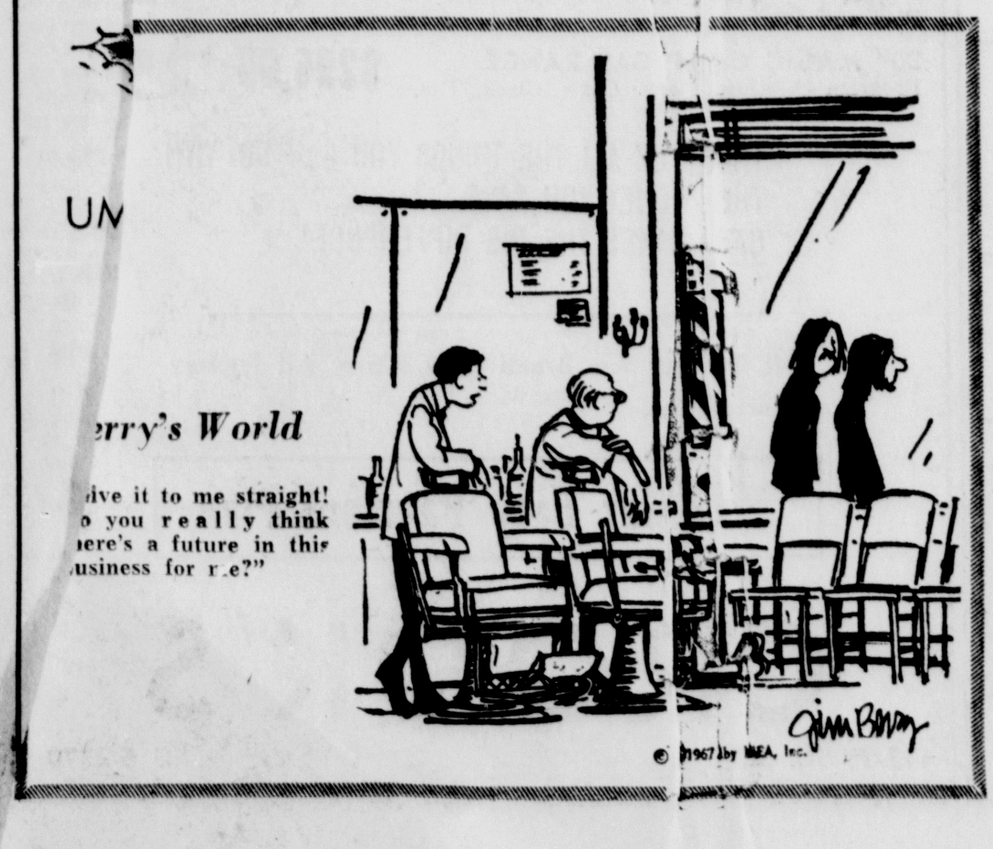

The bunch that crucifixion ceremony in Dallas have cooled off the throbs of a lot of young girls in this country who were attracted by the idea of hobnobbing with the kind of toughs who have kicked over all pretense of decency.

That poisoning tragedy in Colombia started when a container of parathion was loaded on the same truck transporting flour and subsequently broke and spilled. Reminded me of what used to happen in the bad old days when groceries were loaded next to the kerosene can and absorbed the aroma of Rockefeller juice.

I would not be the least bit surprised if Robert Kennedy tinted his hair, because when I saw it at arm's length range last spring it didn't look the way it looked on his most recent TV appearance, when it came through the tube reddish brown.

Don't look now, fellow citizens, but when we tell business and industry they must give idle people something to do we are admitting that technological unemployment has caught up to us, just as the worry-warts said it would when machine power began to displace manpower?

It costs as much as three times more to send a student to a voluntary college as to a tax-supported school—and who pays for the difference? Every taxpayer. I can think of no reason to soak ordinary taxpayers for the higher education of children of well-to-do families.

Still Up In The Air

They Remember!

By Art Buchwald

TOKYO — I had occasion to visit Japan last week, and I am happy to report that Japanese-American relations have never been better. When Premier Sato was leaving to visit the United States, Tokyo University students tried to stop him from going by demonstrating at the airport. It wasn't that they had anything against Sato's visit to the United States. They just love their premier so much, they just couldn't stand to say goodbye.

The big issue in Japan vis-a-vis the United States is Okinawa. The Japanese would like the U.S. to return Okinawa to them after all these years. The United States is willing to do it only if Japan will take South Vietnam at the same time in a package deal. But the Japanese are reluctant to take the U.S. up on it. As one Japanese diplomat put it: "We'd rather commit harakiri first."

Another sore point of Japanese-American relations is that the United States wants Japan to pay more of its own money for its defense and also to do more to rearm for the future.

THE JAPANESE refuse to listen, and one Tokyo taxi driver high in government circles told me why.

He said, "Japanese no want to rearm!"

"Why not?" I asked him

"We remember Pearl Harbor."

"Pearl Harbor, schmerl harbor," I protested. "It's about time the Japanese built up their own defense system."

"Ah-so. You crazy or something?" he said. "We promised Gen. MacArthur we would be peace-loving people. In 1945 we vowed death to the imperialist military clique and a plague on all war."

"But the promises MacArthur exacted from you in 1945 is one thing, and what we want you to do now is another. Aren't you worried about the yellow peril at all?"

"Not much," he admitted. "What yellow peril are you talking about?"

"The billions of Chinese armed with nuclear weapons ready to swoop down on all of Southeast Asia."

"Oh, that yellow peril. Frankly, that's not our problem. The United States taught us that anybody that goes to war is crazy. Take a look at Hiroshima and Nagasaki if you don't believe me."

"But that was a bad war."

"Why was it a bad war?" he asked.

"BECAUSE YOU were the enemy. Now that you're our allies we have no objection to your building up a strong military complex to defend yourselves. There are good wars and bad wars. If you were on our side, you'd be involved in a good war."

"No thank you, venerable taxi rider. Imperial military clique got us into too much trouble last time. Besides, how do you know that if we rearm and get strong militarily we won't bomb Pearl Harbor again?"

"You'd have to promise not to."

"We did the last time, but that didn't stop us from doing it."

"If there's anything I hate," I said angrily, "it's a Japanese dove."

"So sorry, honorable American, but the only thing Japanese people learned from World War II is that there is more money to be made in cameras."

"But how are you going to contain China with cameras?"

"That's your problem. After all, you won World War II, so you have to take care of us."

"Well, if you want to know the truth," I said, "I'm sorry we beat you in World War II."

"You should have thought of that before."

Not So Merry For LBJ

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Besides the packages of trouble stacked under the tree, the tree itself is trimmed with monotony. So this will not be President Johnson's happiest Christmas.

For a while, after it became clear American forces in Vietnam were going to have to stay quite a while, there was a bustle and fervor about the criticism dumped on Johnson.

It came from all directions, including Congress, in the form of denunciation of American involvement or a variety of proposed solutions, although only Johnson, not the critics, would have the task of applying the solutions.

Neither Johnson nor those around him have been any match, in the multitude of their answers, for the vaster multitude of criticisms.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, probably more than anyone in the administration, has talked the most in defense of the administration and the war. But now he sounds like a broken record. So do the critics.

It's the same thing over and over on both sides.

JUST BEFORE Thanksgiving, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, visited Johnson here and went around spreading optimism. But it won't help Johnson's Christmas much.

He was predicting the beginning of a U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam in two years.

But by then the 1968 presidential election will be long over and it's the election Johnson has to begin worrying about now, in addition to the war.

It's easy to say Johnson has it made anyway, that the Democratic party, no matter how unhappy it may be over having Johnson run again, can hardly deny renomination to a president. But it has happened before.

At the moment public opinion polls show public confidence in him at an all-time low. Worse than that, from his viewpoint, it's hard to see how he can increase that confidence unless the war takes an unexpectedly good turn.

Sunday in the New York Sunday Times there was a two-page ad, both pages packed with the names of men and women, paid for by an organization calling itself Dissenting Democrats working to deny Johnson renomination in 1968.

As of now he doesn't know how much opposition he is going to have within the party. So far only Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota has indicated he may run for the nomination.

McCarthy may not be a major stumbling block for Johnson. Although he is called an intellectual — he is a former teacher — McCarthy does not have a distinguished record in Congress and he sounds vague on answers about Vietnam.

HE SPOKE Sunday of a White House policy of taking action without consulting Congress and said it comes "very close to a four - year dictatorship." If he meant Johnson moved U.S. forces into Vietnam without consulting Congress, he's wrong, and he should know it.

In the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin resolution which Congress approved, giving Johnson a go-ahead to use the armed forces as he thought necessary to repel Communist aggression in Vietnam, the Senate vote was 88 to 2 and the House vote 416 to 0.

McCarthy was one of the 88 who voted for the resolution. Like other senators who did the same, he has regrets now, and has no hesitancy about lambasting Johnson.

Since they will probably continue doing it, or some of them will, in the 1968 campaign, Johnson will have this on his back all the way. But that's not all.

There's no reason to think Negro riots won't be just as big next year as they were in 1967, and probably worse. But they occur in the summer in which, if Johnson gets renominated, he will have to start his campaign.

No president in recent memory — except Herbert Hoover in the 1932 depression and Harry S. Truman in 1948 — will have started thinking of a second term under as many handicaps as Johnson. Truman made it, Hoover didn't.

Seeing Red

President Johnson is showing concern about Communist activity in the United States, particularly as it relates to anti-Vietnam War demonsrations.

At a conference with Republican leaders, he read them a secret report which described Communist involvement in the march on the Pentagon Oct. 21.

Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, Republican leader in the House, made reference to this report in a speech and urged that it be made public. He said:

"If the evidence in the hands of the executive branch of our government indicates manipulation of the peace movement in this country by Hanoi, then the propaganda impact of such demonstrations will be lessened and perhaps destroyed. This would be a highly beneficial result, indeed."

PERSONS FAMILIAR with this document say it does not add much to what is already known about Communist efforts in helping to mobilize the march on the Pentagon. This correspondent has referred to articles in the Communist newspaper published in New York which gave details about arrangements for the demonstration at the Pentagon and outlined the bus and train facilities that had been designated for those who wanted to join in the rally.

Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, Democratic leader in the House, in a speech in Atlanta said "the marchers included every Communist and Communist sympathizer in the United States who was able to make the trip."

While Rep. Albert said he did not have knowledge of the document referred to by Rep. Ford, it is evident that in general the two party leaders feel the Communists are meddling in American internal affairs and this should be exposed.

It's natural for the Moscow government to use its agents in this country to influence public opinion and particularly to intensify opposition to the Vietnam War.

But the surprising aspect of the affair is not that the Soviets are resorting to such tactics but that they've been able to get away with it so long without public disapproval or governmental action that would direct attention to their mischief-making.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Mothers who run a family taxi service often spend a good deal of time waiting in the car for passengers.

For such otherwise wasted interludes, I have a "Goes with me Box." It's full of items to be written, read, repaired or otherwise dealt with within the confines of the car.

Besides the obvious mending and correspondence, this box has held loose trading stamps and their books, manicure set, etc.

Start a "Goes with me Box" soon and your whole family will be suggesting something that goes in it.

BARBARA FEKETE

DEAR HELOISE: The straps on my 8-month-old son's crawlers were always falling off. I tried crossing the straps but that didn't help.

I solved this by putting a rubber ponytail holder (with the arrow-like end) around the straps just under his shoulder blades. It doesn't slide or tear the cloth and it can be put on without unfastening the straps.

Worked great for me.

ELEANOR MADDY.

DEAR HELOISE: Why are some of use so dedicated that we work ourselves to death?

We will get flowers at our funeral, but we won't be able to see them. I tell others this when I see them working too hard, but I cannot seem to absorb it myself.

BOSS.

DEAR HELOISE: Approximately twelve years of rheumatoid arthritis has taught me some tricks that may help others:

A nylon sheet plus a nylon nightie enables the arthritic to turn over more easily. Also a thermo blanket or electric blanket provides aching bones with lightweight warmth.

Twisted hands can't always open refrigerator or some cabinet doors. So a long string of plastic ivy dangling from the handle provides a practical, decorative touch and makes them much easier to open.

EARLINE SCHMITZ.

God Bless you, Earline, I hope you are feeling better.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To keep my little ones amused, I draw simple figures or large capital letters on stiff paper or cardboard from shirts, and punch holes along the lines with an ice pick.

I thread a large needle with yarn (or shoe strings for the very young) and let the children sew in and out the holes. The children love it and are always so proud of their finished product.

MOM.

DEAR HELOISE: I just discovered something I could really use in our house on windy, drafty days . . . a door stop. So I made one from a plastic lid on an empty coffee can.

I just bent the plastic lid in half with the lip or ridge on the outside and slipped it under the door. It really grips and will last a long time.

E. PROBST.

DEAR HELOISE: All of you who have gone gung-ho with artificial flowers and plants — and find they gather a lot of dust that you have to get off once a week — trying using that good old feather duster!

Just be sure it's clean. Works like magic in jig-time . . .

HENRY.

DEAR HELOISE: For those gals like me who don't have a clothes dryer and like their blankets soft and fluffy. . .

I hang mine on the line and brush them with an old hair brush. This takes the fuzzy balls off and makes them look and feel new again. And that fuzz doesn't get all over the bedroom!

Senate Vote Slated Today On Meat Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the Senate nearing a vote on a bill toughening meat inspection requirements, two senators from meat-producing states have objected it would favor foreign meat producers.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., replied, however, that this argument "doesn't make any sense."

The Senate was due to vote on the bill today.

The bill would require that all meat produced in this country be up to federal inspection standards within three years. About 85 per cent of the meat already is because it moves in interstate commerce and consequently is federally inspected. The remaining 15 per cent, sold intrastate, comes under state or local inspection only.

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, said Monday the Senate Agriculture Committee had noted while considering the bill it didn't expect that imported meat would be inspected by American personnel before being shipped to this country. But, Miller said, "our intention is that these standards be equal."

"Why this double standard?" asked Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb.

2 Bodies Found Hinted As Those Of 2 Students

BUFFALO, Mo. (AP) — Two bodies found in a soybean field south of Buffalo may be those of two Montreal college students who were hitchhiking home from a summer vacation in Mexico, authorities said.

Montreal officials said Bertram Kidd, 20, and Marjorie Sharp, 21, students at McGill University, were last seen Sept. 16 when they left a bus north of Mexico City.

The Missouri Highway Patrol said clothing near the woman's decomposed body bore a Canadian manufacturer's label.

The patrol said W. S. Cheek of West Memphis, Ark., recalled that about three months ago he brought two young hitchhikers from near the Mexican border to the Texas-Oklahoma line.

Cheek's description of the pair generally fit the victims, the patrol said. He also recalled that the girl said her father was a banker in Montreal.

The bodies were found Sunday on a farm 60 feet off U.S. Route 65. Coroner Jerry T. Cantlon estimated they had been in the field about three months.

A metal detector disclosed four .38-caliber slugs among the remains.

In Pennsylvania Tax Fight

Democrats Set 10 Votes Toward Revenue Package

HARRISBURG (AP) — Tax negotiators return to the bargaining table today, with Democrats reportedly agreeable to provide a maximum of 10 votes toward a partial revenue package of $104 million.

Beyond saying they would resume discussions at 9 a.m., neither Gov. Shafer nor the four legislative leaders would comment on the progress or lack of it during off-and-on meetings Monday.

However, this much was learned from other legislative sources aware of developments:

The negotiators are ready to trim temporarily by one-third the $147 million recommended for the state-related and state-aided universities and hospitals, to hand these institutions at least part of their money.

The obstacle to this is the number of Democratic votes that would be needed for certain taxes. The minority party reportedly is prepared to offer 10 of the required 102 in the House, but the majority Republicans are asking for as many as 25.

When the Big Five entered their daily round of conversations two weeks ago, Shafer was looking for $172 million above the $114.5 million he had already received in the form of increased corporate and cigarette taxes.

The Democrats apparently have convinced Shafer to reduce his demand by $20 million, but the two parties cannot agree on the source of the final $50 million.

A cut of one-third in the appropriations to the select universities and hospitals—including Pennsylvania State, Pittsburgh and Temple — would equal roughly the amount of agreeable taxes—if the two sides can settle the matter of votes. The final $50 million or so would be left to further negotiations.

Democrats reportedly are prepared to offer 10 votes on these taxes:

— Extension of the sales tax to trade-in values of cars and other equipment, $18 million.

— Elimination of the 50-cent sales tax exemption on restaurant meals, $8.5 million.

— A variable excise tax on tobacco products other than cigarettes, $8.8 million.

— An increase from 15 to 18 per cent in the liquor tax, $5.5 million.

The Democrats were ready to support without reservation an increase in the capital stock tax from 5 to 6 mills, $25 million; from 14 to 20 mills in the utility gross receipts tax, $16.8 million; and from 2 to 6 per cent in the inheritance tax, $15 million.

In additiona, the tentative agreement includes a provision to transfer the $6.5 million surplus in the now-expired Korean veterans' bonus fund to the general fund.

In other developments:

Poll tax — Two senators, Paul W. Mahady, D-Westmoreland, and Arthur A. Piasecki, R-Lackawanna, introduced a bill to impose a $10 poll tax on Pennsylvanians who failed to vote.

State Police—The House sent to Gov. Shafer legislation that would place new State Police troopers on an 18-month probationary status. Under present law, once a state policeman is graduated from the academy, he can be dismissed only after a court martial.

Fair Employment — Shafer signed into law a bill extending the state's fair employment practices law to employers of four or more employes. Old law applied to employers of six or more.

Second Chaplain May Face Draft In War Protest

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — A second chaplain at Cornell University has been reclassified as eligible for the draft into the armed forces after protesting the war in Vietnam.

The action came Monday five weeks after the Rev. Paul E. Gibbons, 34-year-old father of three, returned his draft card to the Selective Service Board in Ithaca along with an anti-war statement.

He was reclassified as 1-A delinquent, which means that he must be available for possible induction into the service at any time. The "delinquent" designation refers to failure to carry a registration certificate as required by law.

A little more than a week ago, the Rev. David Connor, a Roman Catholic chaplain, received his delinquent classification. Both had been classified 4-D.

They handed in their draft cards Oct. 16 after a protest march against American involvement in South Vietnam.

To Announce Candidacy In January

Nixon Declares He Will Welcome Primaries Test

By The Associated Press

Richard M. Nixon says he'd like to avoid primaries if he decides to seek the Republican presidential nomination but acknowledges he couldn't and be assured of overcoming a "Nixon is a loser" tag.

The former GOP vice president said Monday that while he'd prefer to skip presidential primaries and save himself for the November race, "the primaries provide the only areas where you can test your strength with the voters."

"And I welcome that test," said the man who lost the presidency to John F. Kennedy in 1960 by only an eyelash, then suffered a second setback two years later when he ran for governor of California.

Nixon, expected to announce his candidacy in January, also said the GOP should make clear it supports President Johnson's Vietnam policies—a position diametrically opposite that of Johnson's fellow Democrat, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota.

McCarthy, an outspoken Vietnam policy critic, is expected to announce Thursday he'll oppose Johnson for the Democratic nod. The early announcement is viewed as an effort by McCarthy to bring under a single banner—his—the now-splintered opposition to the President's war policies.

Meanwhile the Louis Harris poll reported finding that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., whose views on Vietnam appear closer to McCarthy's than Johnson's, now leads Johnson by a 52-32 per cent margin among voters asked who they'd prefer to see as the 1968 Democratic nominee.

The Harris sampling compared with a Kennedy lead of 42-41 per cent in September of 1966 and 48-39 per cent just a month ago.

The poll, copyrighted by the Washington Post, found more than half those it interviewed felt Kennedy had many of the same "outstanding qualities" as his brother, the late President Kennedy.

In other developments:

—Washington sources foresaw political implications in the impending resignation of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara to head the World Bank. They said some were sure to read into the resignation evidence that Johnson planned an all-out air attack on North Vietnam—which McNamara has opposed —designed to end the war before next year's elections.

—Charles F. Frankel resigned as assistant secretary of state amid reports his action was in protest of Johnson's Vietnam policies. Frankel declined to detail his reasons, saying: "It would not serve a good purpose to discuss them."

—Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said he'd support Johnson for renomination only if the war were being de-escalated by the time of next year's Democratic national convention.

'Not Factual,' Johnson Claims Of Summit Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House terms "not a factual story" a published report that President Johnson has received encouragement from Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin to seek a U.S.-Soviet summit meeting.

Newsweek magazine reported Monday that Johnson received a letter from Kosygin within the past 10 days and as a result was encouraged to seek a face-to-face meeting with Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev.

White House press secretary George Christian told newsmen he had been informed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and special presidential aide Walt W. Rostow that "the first we heard of this particular matter was when it appeared in print."

"It is not a factual story," said Christian.

Changes Of Subway Routes Cause 'Foul Up' In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The Great Day of Adventure for New York's straphangers started with a subway train getting "lost" and disgorging its 800 passengers far, far away from where they had hoped they were headed.

The day ended with a widespread power failure that caused havoc—including 4,000 riders on four trains trapped for an hour in a tunnel under the East River.

In between these snafus Monday was a day of what one city official called "compounded confusion."

But the Transit Authority can't change 8 of the 36 subway routes and expect the customers to catch on right away, even though authority member John J. Gilhooley pronounced New Yorkers "remarkably adaptable."

Gilhooley and the other authority member, Daniel T. Scannell, checked operations at the morning and evening rush hours and pronounced the changeover "about 90 per cent effective." They estimated that the major effects of the changes were felt by at least 200,000 of the 2.25 million persons who use the subways daily.

The route and station changes —New York's first major subway reorganization in 27 years —went into effect Sunday, but the real impact was not felt until the start of the work week Monday. The major goal is to carry passengers more quickly and more directly between distant points.

Before Monday's biggest foul-ups—intermittent power failures, stalled trains and jammed station platforms—Gilhooley said: "The fates were not with us today. Tomorrow will be better, we hope."

Passenger reaction ranged from a woman's complaint about riding on a crowded "cow train," to remarks that would not look good in print, to a woman's comment that: "It's easy once you get on the train—especially if you get on the right train." Unfamiliar letters that replaced route names on the trains caused some of the confusion.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Mothers who run a family taxi service often spend a good deal of time waiting in the car for passengers.

For such otherwise wasted interludes, I have a "Goes with me Box." It's full of items to be written, read, repaired or otherwise dealt with within the confines of the car.

Besides the obvious mending and correspondence, this box has held loose trading stamps and their books, manicure set, etc.

Start a "Goes with me Box" soon and your whole family will be suggesting something that goes in it.

BARBARA FEKETE

DEAR HELOISE: The straps on my 8-month-old son's crawlers were always falling off. I tried crossing the straps but that didn't help.

I solved this by putting a rubber ponytail holder (with the arrow-like end) around the straps just under his shoulder blades. It doesn't slide or tear the cloth and it can be put on without unfastening the straps.

Worked great for me.

ELEANOR MADDY.

DEAR HELOISE: Why are some of use so dedicated that we work ourselves to death?

We will get flowers at our funeral, but we won't be able to see them. I tell others this when I see them working too hard, but I cannot seem to absorb it myself.

BOSS.

DEAR HELOISE: Approximately twelve years of rheumatoid arthritis has taught me some tricks that may help others:

A nylon sheet plus a nylon nightie enables the arthritic to turn over more easily. Also a thermo blanket or electric blanket provides aching bones with lightweight warmth.

Twisted hands can't always open refrigerator or some cabinet doors. So a long string of plastic ivy dangling from the handle provides a practical, decorative touch and makes them much easier to open.

EARLINE SCHMITZ.

God Bless you, Earline, I hope you are feeling better.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To keep my little ones amused, I draw simple figures or large capital letters on stiff paper or cardboard from shirts, and punch holes along the lines with an ice pick.

I thread a large needle with yarn (or shoe strings for the very young) and let the children sew in and out the holes. The children love it and are always so proud of their finished product.

MOM.

DEAR HELOISE: I just discovered something I could really use in our house on windy, drafty days . . . a door stop. So I made one from a plastic lid on an empty coffee can.

I just bent the plastic lid in half with the lip or ridge on the outside and slipped it under the door. It really grips and will last a long time.

E. PROBST.

DEAR HELOISE: All of you who have gone gung-ho with artificial flowers and plants — and find they gather a lot of dust that you have to get off once a week — trying using that good old feather duster!

Just be sure it's clean. Works like magic in jig-time . . .

HENRY.

DEAR HELOISE: For those gals like me who don't have a clothes dryer and like their blankets soft and fluffy. . .

I hang mine on the line and brush them with an old hair brush. This takes the fuzzy balls off and makes them look and feel new again. And that fuzz doesn't get all over the bedroom!

Senate Vote Slated Today On Meat Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the Senate nearing a vote on a bill toughening meat inspection requirements, two senators from meat-producing states have objected it would favor foreign meat producers.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., replied, however, that this argument "doesn't make any sense."

The Senate was due to vote on the bill today.

The bill would require that all meat produced in this country be up to federal inspection standards within three years. About 85 per cent of the meat already is because it moves in interstate commerce and consequently is federally inspected. The remaining 15 per cent, sold intrastate, comes under state or local inspection only.

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, said Monday the Senate Agriculture Committee had noted while considering the bill it didn't expect that imported meat would be inspected by American personnel before being shipped to this country. But, Miller said, "our intention is that these standards be equal."

"Why this double standard?" asked Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb.

2 Bodies Found Hinted As Those Of 2 Students

BUFFALO, Mo. (AP) — Two bodies found in a soybean field south of Buffalo may be those of two Montreal college students who were hitchhiking home from a summer vacation in Mexico, authorities said.

Montreal officials said Bertram Kidd, 20, and Marjorie Sharp, 21, students at McGill University, were last seen Sept. 16 when they left a bus north of Mexico City.

The Missouri Highway Patrol said clothing near the woman's decomposed body bore a Canadian manufacturer's label.

The patrol said W. S. Cheek of West Memphis, Ark., recalled that about three months ago he brought two young hitchhikers from near the Mexican border to the Texas-Oklahoma line.

Cheek's description of the pair generally fit the victims, the patrol said. He also recalled that the girl said her father was a banker in Montreal.

The bodies were found Sunday on a farm 60 feet off U.S. Route 65. Coroner Jerry T. Cantlon estimated they had been in the field about three months.

A metal detector disclosed four .38-caliber slugs among the remains.

In Pennsylvania Tax Fight

Democrats Set 10 Votes Toward Revenue Package

HARRISBURG (AP) — Tax negotiators return to the bargaining table today, with Democrats reportedly agreeable to provide a maximum of 10 votes toward a partial revenue package of $104 million.

Beyond saying they would resume discussions at 9 a.m., neither Gov. Shafer nor the four legislative leaders would comment on the progress or lack of it during off-and-on meetings Monday.

However, this much was learned from other legislative sources aware of developments:

The negotiators are ready to trim temporarily by one-third the $147 million recommended for the state-related and state-aided universities and hospitals, to hand these institutions at least part of their money.

The obstacle to this is the number of Democratic votes that would be needed for certain taxes. The minority party reportedly is prepared to offer 10 of the required 102 in the House, but the majority Republicans are asking for as many as 25.

When the Big Five entered their daily round of conversations two weeks ago, Shafer was looking for $172 million above the $114.5 million he had already received in the form of increased corporate and cigarette taxes.

The Democrats apparently have convinced Shafer to reduce his demand by $20 million, but the two parties cannot agree on the source of the final $50 million.

A cut of one-third in the appropriations to the select universities and hospitals—including Pennsylvania State, Pittsburgh and Temple — would equal roughly the amount of agreeable taxes—if the two sides can settle the matter of votes. The final $50 million or so would be left to further negotiations.

Democrats reportedly are prepared to offer 10 votes on these taxes:

— Extension of the sales tax to trade-in values of cars and other equipment, $18 million.

— Elimination of the 50-cent sales tax exemption on restaurant meals, $8.5 million.

— A variable excise tax on tobacco products other than cigarettes, $8.8 million.

— An increase from 15 to 18 per cent in the liquor tax, $5.5 million.

The Democrats were ready to support without reservation an increase in the capital stock tax from 5 to 6 mills, $25 million; from 14 to 20 mills in the utility gross receipts tax, $16.8 million; and from 2 to 6 per cent in the inheritance tax, $15 million.

In additiona, the tentative agreement includes a provision to transfer the $6.5 million surplus in the now-expired Korean veterans' bonus fund to the general fund.

In other developments:

Poll tax — Two senators, Paul W. Mahady, D-Westmoreland, and Arthur A. Piasecki, R-Lackawanna, introduced a bill to impose a $10 poll tax on Pennsylvanians who failed to vote.

State Police—The House sent to Gov. Shafer legislation that would place new State Police troopers on an 18-month probationary status. Under present law, once a state policeman is graduated from the academy, he can be dismissed only after a court martial.

Fair Employment — Shafer signed into law a bill extending the state's fair employment practices law to employers of four or more employes. Old law applied to employers of six or more.

Youth, 16, Cited Following Mishap

Michael R. Ferry, 16, of 212 6th St., Wellsville, has been cited for driving left of center as a result of a Sunday mishap on Route 39 in which his auto wrecked.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said Ferry's 1964 coach went off the road about 4½ miles west of Wellsville and upset. Two youths in the car were treated at City Hospital.

Ferry said he was headed west and attempting to pass another auto when he saw a third car approach and he pulled back to his own lane to avoid the crash. His car went off the road on the north side and overturned.

Second Chaplain May Face Draft In War Protest

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — A second chaplain at Cornell University has been reclassified as eligible for the draft into the armed forces after protesting the war in Vietnam.

The action came Monday five weeks after the Rev. Paul E. Gibbons, 34-year-old father of three, returned his draft card to the Selective Service Board in Ithaca along with an anti-war statement.

He was reclassified as 1-A delinquent, which means that he must be available for possible induction into the service at any time. The "delinquent" designation refers to failure to carry a registration certificate as required by law.

A little more than a week ago, the Rev. David Connor, a Roman Catholic chaplain, received his delinquent classification. Both had been classified 4-D.

They handed in their draft cards Oct. 16 after a protest march against American involvement in South Vietnam.

To Announce Candidacy In January

Nixon Declares He Will Welcome Primaries Test

By The Associated Press

Richard M. Nixon says he'd like to avoid primaries if he decides to seek the Republican presidential nomination but acknowledges he couldn't and be assured of overcoming a "Nixon is a loser" tag.

The former GOP vice president said Monday that while he'd prefer to skip presidential primaries and save himself for the November race, "the primaries provide the only areas where you can test your strength with the voters."

"And I welcome that test," said the man who lost the presidency to John F. Kennedy in 1960 by only an eyelash, then suffered a second setback two years later when he ran for governor of California.

Nixon, expected to announce his candidacy in January, also said the GOP should make clear it supports President Johnson's Vietnam policies—a position diametrically opposite that of Johnson's fellow Democrat, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota.

McCarthy, an outspoken Vietnam policy critic, is expected to announce Thursday he'll oppose Johnson for the Democratic nod. The early announcement is viewed as an effort by McCarthy to bring under a single banner—his—the now-splintered opposition to the President's war policies.

Recounts

for a net change of two in favor of Lowe. The new count showed 142 for Lowe and 111 for Bucher.

The precinct totals were unchanged in 1-A, 2-H and 2-I, the other three specified in Lowe's application. The count by precincts was: 1-A, Bucher, 96, Lowe, 66; 2-H, Bucher, 87, Lowe, 63, and 2-I, Bucher, 92, Lowe, 59.

—:—

MAYLONE originally requested a recount in three of the Fourth Ward's precincts, but called it off after a new tabulation of only one of the polling places.

In one of the widest changes ever shown in the recount of a single precinct, the new tabulation showed a gain of 46 votes for Massey and 16 for Maylone —a net increase of 62 votes. The original ward totals showed 598 for Massey and 526 for Maylone.

The new totals, taking into account the figures produced in the recount of 4-H:

Massey	644
Maylone	542

The official canvass showed Maylone was defeated by 72 votes. Following the one - precinct recount, he was trailing by 102. The board, at his request, dropped plans for a recount on the race in 4-F and 4-I. In the recount of 4-H, Maylone jumped from 95 votes to 111 and Massey's total was pushed from 92 to 138.

Before the new tabulation started, Maylone told the board he acted out of curiosity. He pointed out that the total vote cast for the ward council race in 4-H was 70 under the total in the George Willshaw-Robert Owen mayoralty race in the same precinct. He said he did not expect the recount to change the result.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, a member, suggested that the board instruct the six precinct judges and clerks in 4-H to report to its office in an effort to find why such a large error was made in tabulating the returns.

The recount narrowed the margin by which Snow won the mayor's post in Washingtonville. The original count in the entire village showed 105 for Snow and 95 for Davidson.

After the recount, the new totals were:

Snow	102
Davidson	94

Only the Columbiana County Precinct of the village was recounted. Snow lost three votes for a new total of 83 and Davidson lost one for a new total of 65. In the Mahoning County Precinct, Snow was credited with 19, while Davidson received 30.

The recount of the Glasgow Precinct of Madison Township widened the margin by which Scharf was defeated by Poynter in the clerk's race. The original count credited Poynter with 236 and Scharf with 219.

Following the recount, the new townshipwide totals were:

Poynter	237
Scharf	218

Poynter gained one vote in the recount and Scharf lost one. The recount of Glasgow on the clerk's race gave Poynter 151 and Scharf 43. In the Rock Camp Precinct, Poynter had received 46 and Scharf 87. In the West Point polling place, Poynter got 40 and Scharf got 88.

The four recounts required about two and a half hours. Election Board members attending were Carl L. Stacey, chairman, and Gosney, both Democrats and both of Columbiana, and G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool and Charles A. Pike of Lisbon, both Republicans.

In the Bucher-Lowe race, the board held a discussion of nearly a half-hour on how to count three ballots — one which had been cast in 1-A and two which had been voted in 2-H.

The disputed ballot in 1-A had been tossed out by the precinct personnel as "no count." The two in 2-H had been counted for Lowe.

Four motions were made in efforts to settle the question. Three ended in 2-2 ties along party lines. The board finally settled on a compromise motion and agreed to count two of the ballots for Lowe — as had been done by the precinct staff — and throw out the third, also following the lead of the precinct crew. As part of the motion, it agreed to send all three ballots to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus—Ohio's chief election officer—and ask him how the three should be counted.

The board said it sought the ruling from Brown as guidance in counting questionable ballots in future recounts.

EFFECTIVE Friday of this week, there will be what were termed "substantial" increases in the benefits in the health and welfare plan. The plan is concerned primarily with hospital insurance.

Good Friday was added to the list of paid holidays, effective in 1970. The change raises to seven the number of paid holidays. The 6 - cent hourly raise in each year is applicable to holiday pay and Sunday premium pay, the parties agreed.

The cents-per-hour increases will be converted to a percentage for piece-workers, using a pattern similar to the method utilized in the past.

The conferees said a major part of the session was spent in revision and modernization of contract terms. The major changes cover provisions on seniority procedures, grievance procedures, the apprentice agreement and the union security clause. The action amounted to a complete revision of the basic contract wording.

The union's negotiating team was headed by E. L. Wheatley, president, George Barbaree, secretary - treasurer, and Lester Null, third vice president.

Work On Church Halted By Pickets

LISBON — Masonry work on a new $130,670 formation center at St. George Catholic Church stopped Monday noon after members of an operating engineers union set up a picket line.

Their signs say Robert Bricker Construction, Inc., of Salem, the contractor for the building which will have classrooms and an assembly hall, is unfair to the International Union of Operating Engineers.

They want Bricker to hire heavy machinery operators for the union on other jobs he has under way in the county—construction at Salem High School and a Salem service station.

No picket lines were set up there, they said, because the jobs are idle.

The masons at work on the church building are members of Bricklayers and Plasterers Union Local 41 in Salem. They left the job at noon saying they would honor the picket line. The pickets were back at the site at 8 a. m. today.

Recounts

for a net change of two in favor of Lowe. The new count showed 142 for Lowe and 111 for Bucher.

The precinct totals were unchanged in 1-A, 2-H and 2-I, the other three specified in Lowe's application. The count by precincts was: 1-A, Bucher, 96, Lowe, 66; 2-H, Bucher, 87, Lowe, 63, and 2-I, Bucher, 92, Lowe, 59.

—:—

MAYLONE originally requested a recount in three of the Fourth Ward's precincts, but called it off after a new tabulation of only one of the polling places.

In one of the widest changes ever shown in the recount of a single precinct, the new tabulation showed a gain of 46 votes for Massey and 16 for Maylone —a net increase of 62 votes. The original ward totals showed 598 for Massey and 526 for Maylone.

The new totals, taking into account the figures produced in the recount of 4-H:

Massey	644
Maylone	542

The official canvass showed Maylone was defeated by 72 votes. Following the one - precinct recount, he was trailing by 102. The board, at his request, dropped plans for a recount on the race in 4-F and 4-I. In the recount of 4-H, Maylone jumped from 95 votes to 111 and Massey's total was pushed from 92 to 138.

Before the new tabulation started, Maylone told the board he acted out of curiosity. He pointed out that the total vote cast for the ward council race in 4-H was 70 under the total in the George Willshaw-Robert Owen mayoralty race in the same precinct. He said he did not expect the recount to change the result.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, a member, suggested that the board instruct the six precinct judges and clerks in 4-H to report to its office in an effort to find why such a large error was made in tabulating the returns.

The recount narrowed the margin by which Snow won the mayor's post in Washingtonville. The original count in the entire village showed 105 for Snow and 95 for Davidson.

After the recount, the new totals were:

Snow	102
Davidson	94

Only the Columbiana County Precinct of the village was recounted. Snow lost three votes for a new total of 83 and Davidson lost one for a new total of 65. In the Mahoning County Precinct, Snow was credited with 19, while Davidson received 30.

The recount of the Glasgow Precinct of Madison Township widened the margin by which Scharf was defeated by Poynter in the clerk's race. The original count credited Poynter with 236 and Scharf with 219.

Following the recount, the new townshipwide totals were:

Poynter	237
Scharf	218

Poynter gained one vote in the recount and Scharf lost one. The recount of Glasgow on the clerk's race gave Poynter 151 and Scharf 43. In the Rock Camp Precinct, Poynter had received 46 and Scharf 37. In the West Point polling place, Poynter got 40 and Scharf got 88.

The four recounts required about two and a half hours. Election Board members attending were Carl L. Stacey, chairman, and Gosney, both Democrats and both of Columbiana, and G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool and Charles A. Pike of Lisbon, both Republicans.

In the Bucher-Lowe race, the board held a discussion of nearly a half-hour on how to count three ballots — one which had been cast in 1-A and two which had been voted in 2-H.

The disputed ballot in 1-A had been tossed out by the precinct personnel as "no count." The two in 2-H had been counted for Lowe.

Four motions were made in efforts to settle the question. Three ended in 2-2 ties along party lines. The board finally settled on a compromise motion and agreed to count two of the ballots for Lowe — as had been done by the precinct staff — and throw out the third, also following the lead of the precinct crew. As part of the motion, it agreed to send all three ballots to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus—Ohio's chief election officer—and ask him how the three should be counted.

The board said it sought the ruling from Brown as guidance in counting questionable ballots in future recounts.

boost the payment ultimately to 8½ cents.

—:—

EFFECTIVE Friday of this week, there will be what were termed "substantial" increases in the benefits in the health and welfare plan. The plan is concerned primarily with hospital insurance.

Good Friday was added to the list of paid holidays, effective in 1970. The change raises to seven the number of paid holidays. The 6 - cent hourly raise in each year is applicable to holiday pay and Sunday premium pay, the parties agreed.

The cents-per-hour increases will be converted to a percentage for piece-workers, using a pattern similar to the method utilized in the past.

The conferees said a major part of the session was spent in revision and modernization of contract terms. The major changes cover provisions on seniority procedures, grievance procedures, the apprentice agreement and the union security clause. The action amounted to a complete revision of the basic contract wording.

—:—

MOST OF the manufacturers returned to East Liverpool last night and this morning. A 10-car caravan of IBOP representatives headed home from Cincinnati this morning.

The union's negotiating team was headed by E. L. Wheatley, president, George Barbaree, secretary - treasurer, and Lester Null, third vice president.

Joseph M. Wells Jr. and John T. Hall, co - chairmen of the labor committee, acted as chief spokesmen for the USPA. John Thompson was secretary of the labor committee.

Hostage In Gunfight Has Fascinating Story To Tell

NILES, Ohio (AP)— British businessman Peter Lowrie, who is on a 10-day trip to this country, will have a fascinating story of "life in America" to relate when he returns home Sunday.

Lowrie was the hostage three gunmen picked when they tried to bluff their way past police at their motel hideout early Monday. He wound up in the middle of a shootout in which more than 100 shots were exchanged.

Lowrie escaped injury, but one gunman was shot dead, another was wounded seriously and four police officers were wounded.

It all started when police were called to investigate a report that three men were trying to loot a vending machine in a motel. When they reached the motel on U.S. 422 east of Niles, the trio, holed up in their second-floor motel room, refused at first to come out.

When they did come out their balcony entrance they had Lowrie as a hostage. Lowrie had been in an adjoining room, and the three reached him by forcing the door.

"This is our hostage. We are walking out of here. Otherwise it's going to be one hell of a shootout," police quoted one of the gunmen as saying.

The gunfire started as the trio and their hostage moved toward a stairway leading from the outside door to the ground level.

"I was ahead of them," Lowrie related, "and the one man pushed his gun in my back. "They used me as a shield as we edged our way out the 40 yards along the balcony. Then we went down some steps and underneath the building to where my car was parked."

Richard Bullen of Austintown, one of about 30 police officers who converged on the scene, killed one member of the trio, 27-year-old William Joyce of Boardman, with a shot in the face, police reported.

Joyce's brother, John, 18, was wounded seriously and was being treated in a Youngstown hospital. Two Niles police officers were reported in fair condition in Trumbull Memorial Hospital in Warren.

The third gunman, Aubrey Roberts, 19, of Youngstown, surrendered.

The Joyce brothers were named in a warrant issued Monday accusing them of the robbery of Seven-Mile Inn at Austintown. Some $800 was taken in that holdup Friday.

The younger Joyce and Roberts also were under charges for three other recent robberies in this area, according to the Mahoning County Sheriff's Department.

Lowrie arrived here Friday on his second trip to this country. He is head of the British branch of Ajax Magnethermic Corp., which has offices in Warren.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's capital would have a tourist center catering to its millions of annual visitors if a House-passed bill wins final approval.

Sent to the Senate on a 316-34 vote Monday was a measure aimed at converting Union Station, a sprawling, cavernous structure just four blocks northeast of the Capitol, into a national tourist center.

The bill calls for the government to lease the building for 20 years after its owner, the Washington Terminal Co., spends up to $16 million to renovate the structure and build a 4,000-car parking lot nearby. The proposed center also would include a heliport.

—:—

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has before it a formal copy of the multination trade agreement hailed by President Johnson as a monument to his successor, the late President John F. Kennedy.

Johnson has assailed pending measures in Congress that would set new import quotas on dozens of products and commodities.

The President has said passage of the protectionist measures would make meaningless the trade agreement produced by the so-called Kennedy Round of trade talks in Geneva. Kennedy's initiative led to the start of the negotiations.

They culminated June 30 in the multilateral agreement, scheduled to take effect Jan. 1. The United States, while agreeing to lower its own import restrictions, gained tariff concessions of up to $8 billion on American exports.

The House passed legislation Monday that would extend to clothing, bedding and household furnishings the provisions of the Flammable Act, designed to safeguard consumers from combustible products.

Chester Eyes Refunds For Gas And Oil

Chester Council will seek to regain allowances on gasoline and oil purchases in an effort to raise additional operating funds.

Council decided to pursue the matter on its own, as in the past, following receipt of a letter at its meeing Monday night from a resident of Wellsburg offering his services as a collector for 20 per cent of whatever was derived from checking the city's books and submitting the figures to oil companies.

L. H. McComic of Wellsburg made the offer.

Member Roy Cashdollar pointed out the last time the city performed similar research, it resulted in about $1,000 in allowances.

Four cents on each gallon of gas and two cents on each quart of oil is allowed by the companies.

Cashdollar said the city could receive as much as $750 under the program. When the necessary forms are obtained, members will scrutinize the city's books covering the past three years.

A recent audit of the books by the state showed "everything in order," according to Edward C. O'Day of the state's auditing department.

Remittances were $118 and bills totaled 1,322.30.

Members learned the price of cutting down a tree at 1st St. and Pennsylvania Ave. will be $150. After discussion, Council decided to seek local help and possibly pay $50 to $75 for the work. The tree is encroaching on a resident's property.

Council also will seek a price on salt for the winter.

Postmasters Ask Early Ordering Of Yule Presents

Families buying Christmas gifts through the mail were urged today by local and area postmasters to order early to be assured delivery before Dec. 25.

"Too many families are disappointed on Christmas Eve because they failed to allow for record volume of mail moving through post offices during the holiday season," they pointed out.

On surface mail shipments from distant cities, the U. S. Post Office Department suggests that orders be placed before the end of November. For packages from nearby cities and those sent by air parcel post, families are urgd to place their orders by Dec. 11.

The early ordering of Christmas gifts also will allow for the delays which are often encountered in merchants' shipping rooms during the holiday rush and possible shortages of goods as the selling season draws to a close.

Nursing Course Will Be Outlined

A special meeting will be held at the Westgate School library Friday at 3:30 p. m. for those interested in a special course for unlicensed practical nursing.

Miss Laurine Gullette, assistant supervisor of health occupations for the Ohio Department of Education, will outline the class to be conducted beginning in January.

To qualify, a person must have had two years experience in hospital or nursing home work.

The session Friday will be to acquaint those interested in the course with the program to be offered and give them an opportunity to register. Local nursing homes or hospitals who have employes interested should encourage them to attend or send representativs, school officials said.

The course will be conducted through the East Liverpool Board of Education. The fees will be paid by the students and the state.

Supt. Paul Blair said 240 class hours will be presented in a 13- or 14-week period.

Charges Dismissed

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Charges of illegal possession of marijuana placed against Carol Eisenstein, 23, were dismissed Monday by Athens County Common Pleas Court. Judge John Bolin ruled her purse was searched without a warrant and she had not been formally arrested.

Street Supervisor Pete Growall reported new blades have been obtained for the snowplow. Council authorized the purchase of snow treads for the grader and police cruiser.

During Christmas Shopping

Lisbon Council Rejects Covered Parking Meters

LISBON — Council Monday night turned down a request from local storekeepers that parking meters be covered as a courtesy to Christmas shoppers.

Clyde Wilson presented the merchants' suggestion and said they would like Dec. 11-23 as the period for free parking. He said they would be willing to place sacks on meters in front of their stores if the administration would take care of meters around the Square.

Council voted to leave the meters in operation and directed police to issue courtesy tickets Dec. 11-23.

—:—

MEMBERS OF Council said they decided after their experience with covered meters last Christmas they would not do it again. Police would not cover the meters on their regular turns and Council paid them overtime to put on the sacks.

Several members of the Chamber of Commerce removed the sacks after Christmas. Councilmen also said the covered meters do not serve the purpose intended, since downtown workers take advantage of them and park in metered areas all day.

Council adopted a resolution endorsing a pigeon - extermination program proposed by Gene Courtney, manager of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau Cooperative Association's Landmark Store on S. Market St. The birds feed on grain at the Landmark mill and roost on many buildings.

Joe W. Driscoll, superintendent of Lisbon schools, announced that Charles Pete, school crossing guard at E. Lincoln Way (Route 30) and Pritchard Ave., will resign, effective Dec. 1.

Pete is one of three guards helping school children across busy intersections. Mrs. Jane Cannon works at N. Market St. (Route 45) and Pine St. and Mrs. Rita Cross at W. Lincoln Way and Thomas Rd. Pete is paid by the community, Mrs. Cannon by the Board of Education and Mrs. Cross by both on a 50-50 basis.

—:—

DRISCOLL SAID a boy from the special education class at the high school will be assigned to Pete's post and will be paid from Neighborhood Youth Corps funds for in-school projects.

At the superintendent's request, Council voted a $50-per-year raise for Mrs. Cross. Driscoll said House Bill 350 which provided salary increases for teachers requires that non - teaching personnel receive a raise of at last $100 per year effective Sept. 1. He said the Board of Education raised Mrs. Cannon $100 for the nine months and Mrs. Cross $50.

Council adopted a resolution accepting the county budget commission's statement of amounts the village will receive from taxes.

The general fund will receive $19,974 from a 3-mill levy outside the 10-mill limitation and $16,645 from a 2.5-mill levy inside the limitation. Mother Due To Testify Against Son

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A Painesville mother was expected to testify today against her 16-year-old son, who is on trial in Lake County Common Pleas Court for fatally stabbing his father.

Fred M. Esherick Jr. is charged with first - degree murder in the killing of his father at their home here last May 5. He also is accused of assaulting with intent to kill his mother.

Mrs. Esherick, 48, has been subpoenaed as a state witness.

The state claims that after killing his father with a bayonet and assaulting his mother, the boy loaded the parents in the trunk of the family car and took them to a creek near Painesville where he dumped them.

Painesville policemen testified Monday of finding a trail of bloodstains leading from the boy's bedroom to the garage.

Sgt. Oscar K. Korpinen testified that young Esherick had bloodstains on his shoes when he was arrested. He also told the jury he found an empty bayonet scabbard and other knives hidden inside a car tire in the basement of the home.

Judge John F. Clair Jr. would not allow police to testify about comments the boy made to them when he was arrested, photographed and questioned.

Bill Advanced On Pay Raise For Solicitor

Council gave the second of three required readings Monday night to an ordinance granting an $1,800 annual salary increase for Solicitor - elect J. Michael Kapp and scheduled another extra session Thursday at 7 p.m. to give it final passage.

The measure advanced through the second reading with a 4-3 vote. Councilmen Frank Duffy, Democrat, and Donna Richards Wilson and Harold Maylone, Republicans cast the dissenting votes. The "yes" votes were cast by Councilmen Norman Bucher and Floyd Murray, Democrats, and Robert W. Sample and James Lowe, Republicans.

Kapp, a Democrat, will take office Jan. 1 for a four - year term. He will replace Joseph W. Cooper, also a Democrat, who did not run for a new term.

The raise for the new solicitor managed to squeeze through only first reading, 5-2, at the Nov. 20 meeting. Duffy and Mrs. Wilson opposed it at that time. Maylone joined in the opposition last night to make the count 4-3.

The action last night was taken without comment. At the Nov. 20 meeting, Duffy and Mrs. Wilson said they believed an $800 raise would be sufficient. The solicitor's post now pays $4,200. The new rate would be $6,000.

Queried by Council, Cooper said four affirmative votes will be sufficient to enact the measure on its third reading. It contains an emergency clause, which would make it effective immediately after signing by Mayor George E. Willshaw. With four affirmative votes, the emergency clause will be inoperative, but the legislation will be considered enacted, the solicitor said.

In other business, Council approved unanimously an amended appropriation ordinance allocating $10,163 for various funds within the water department and $1,792.01 to other funds in the sewage treatment department. Both are administered by the Board of Public Utilities.

Council also approved, 7-0, a resolution authorizing the utilities board to advertise for bids on two projects. They are installation of a new pump, along with electrical work and a chlorination device, at the Haywood St. pumping station in Beechwood and other electrical work at the main pumping station in Klondyke.

McNamara's Resignation To Raise Many Questions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's impending resignation from his key Cabinet post to head the World Bank produces a flock of questions ranging from war policy to politics.

Among the most pertinent:

—What if any effect will the resignation have on U.S. policy in Vietnam?

—What are the implications for the 1968 election, in which President Johnson is expected to seek re-election and the Vietnam war appears a key issue?

—Who will succeed the man who served as America's defense chief longer than anyone in history?

Some Pentagon sources have long contended that McNamara wanted out of the job because he felt he was losing his bounce after nearly seven years in one of the Cabinet's—and the world's—most exacting posts. As defense chief he managed an institution with 4.5 million employes, an $80 billion budget and a nuclear capacity that could devastate the earth.

Those who express that view say McNamara would have stepped down long since except for his sense of duty to a nation and a President embroiled in a difficult, widely unpopular war.

They say McNamara stayed on so long only because he felt his resignation during the Vietnam war might have been interpreted as personal opposition to President Johnson's war policy.

On the other hand, McNamara has never concealed his disagreement with those U.S. military chiefs and members of Congress who favor further acceleration of the bombing of North Vietnam.

He has made it clear publicly that he believes the bombing, while useful, is of limited value and that the war's outcome depends on ground victories in South Vietnam.

This year's stepping up of U.S. bombing of the North is viewed in some quarters as evidence that Johnson has begun to listen more to his military advisers than to McNamara.

Some Pentagon officials argue that McNamara's influence with the President has not waned. They point out McNamara has opposed any air attacks on Haiphong Harbor's docks, and they have not been hit.

Some are likely to see in the resignation either a decision by McNamara to leave the administration because he could no longer support Johnson's war policy, or a Johnson move to dump his defense chief in an effort to approach a bid for reelection with a new war policy team.

And there no doubt will be those who see McNamara's departure as heralding a stepped-up drive by Johnson to end the war as soon as possible by bombing North Vietnam into submission.

What appears more likely to Pentagon-watchers is that McNamara simply no longer feels, after his long tenure, that he can bring the proper amount of vigor and fresh thinking to the job.

A clue to many of the questions raised by the resignation could lie in the man President Johnson names to replace McNamara. Certainly, appointment of a person whose views on bombing of the North differ sharply from McNamara's will be interpreted by many as proof that stepped up bombing is imminent.

Lisbon Council Rejects Covered Parking Meters

LISBON — Council Monday night turned down a request from local storekeepers that parking meters be covered as a courtesy to Christmas shoppers.

Clyde Wilson presented the merchants' suggestion and said they would like Dec. 11-23 as the period for free parking. He said they would be willing to place sacks on meters in front of their stores if the administration would take care of meters around the Square.

Council voted to leave the meters in operation and directed police to issue courtesy tickets Dec. 11-23.

—:—

MEMBERS OF Council said they decided after their experience with covered meters last Christmas they would not do it again. Police would not cover the meters on their regular turns and Council paid them overtime to put on the sacks.

Several members of the Chamber of Commerce removed the sacks after Christmas. Councilmen also said the covered meters do not serve the purpose intended, since downtown workers take advantage of them and park in metered areas all day.

Council adopted a resolution endorsing a pigeon - extermination program proposed by Gene Courtney, manager of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau Cooperative Association's Landmark Store on S. Market St. The birds feed on grain at the Landmark mill and roost on many buildings.

Joe W. Driscoll, superintendent of Lisbon schools, announced that Charles Pete, school crossing guard at E. Lincoln Way (Route 30) and Pritchard Ave., will resign, effective Dec. 1.

Pete is one of three guards helping school children across busy intersections. Mrs. Jane Cannon works at N. Market St. (Route 45) and Pine St. and Mrs. Rita Cross at W. Lincoln Way and Thomas Rd. Pete is paid by the community, Mrs. Cannon by the Board of Education and Mrs. Cross by both on a 50-50 basis.

—:—

DRISCOLL SAID a boy from the special education class at the high school will be assigned to Pete's post and will be paid from Neighborhood Youth Corps funds for in-school projects.

At the superintendent's request, Council voted a $50-per-year raise for Mrs. Cross. Driscoll said House Bill 350 which provided salary increases for teachers requires that non - teaching personnel receive a raise of at last $100 per year effective Sept. 1. He said the Board of Education raised Mrs. Cannon $100 for the nine months and Mrs. Cross $50.

Council adopted a resolution accepting the county budget commission's statement of amounts the village will receive from taxes.

The general fund will receive $19,974 from a 3-mill levy outside the 10-mill limitation and $16,645 from a 2.5-mill levy inside the limitation. Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The reply to the enormously overweight man was an eye opener. You said, "Now that you've surrounded yourself with a fortress of flesh, try to learn, if you can, what you're hiding from!"

I long have been convinced that there is something more to obesity than the fact that people enjoy food. My sister-in-law was a slender, beautiful bride — 12 years ago. She also was deeply religious. Shortly after her marriage she told me in the strictest of confidence that sex was repulsive to her and she so hated it that she made up a series of excuses which she uses regularly.

The woman now weighs 240 pounds (she's 5 feet 4) and it makes me sad to look at her. I told my husband I believe his sister has made herself fat as a cow so she will be physically unattractive to her husband in the hope he'll leave her alone completely. He says I'm crazy. What do you say?—AMATEUR SHRINKER.

-:-

Dear Ann: I say you might be right. And I also say something else. It was rock bottom to pass on information told to you in confidence. You should be ashamed of yourself for betraying your sister-in-law.

Errant Papa

Dear Ann: The letter from Wabash Blues is very much like my story. I also married a divorced man whose wife had walked out and left a little boy nearly 3 years old. If Wabash thinks she's a nervous wreck now, tell her to wait a few years.

My husband always took the boy's part against teachers, neighbors, me — anyone who criticized him. He never saw anything wrong with Denny.

When we began to get calls from the juvenile authorities, I took the boy for counseling. Three different counselors said the same thing, "There is nothing wrong with the child. It is his dad. He is ruining the boy by giving in to him, fighting his battles and making excuses for him."

I tried to get my husband to see what he was doing but he accused me of being jealous of the child, so I gave up.

Today Denny is in prison. He starts the second year of a five-year term in December. The boy is only 17 and his life already is ruined.

Please keep hammering away at foolish parents who think they are being good to their kids when they let them have whatever they want. — TRIED BUT FAILED.

-:-

Dear Tried: Thank you for your letter. The sin of this father is indeed being visited upon his son.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a secretary who discovered by accident that my married boss is having a torrid affair with a woman in this office. When I learned what was going on I lost all respect for him.

This situation has not affected my work, but every time I see these two together it makes me sick at my stomach, even though I realize it's none of my business.

My boss is not aware that I know what's going on and I wouldn't dream of telling him. Should I stay and pretend I'm deaf, dumb and blind or should I leave?—MISS INBETWEEN.

Timothy Burger, 27, of Willoughby was buried under 10 feet of dirt for 15 minutes. He was pronounced dead at the scene. He was an employe of the Bosco Excavating Co. of Eastlake.

Dominic Bosco, owner of the company, suffered a heart attack while helping other employes and police dig Burger out. He was taken to Lake County Memorial Hospital West whree he was reported in fair condition.

Youth Gets Life Term In Slaying Of Butcher

CINCINNATI (AP)— Lonnie O. Miller, 18, Cincinnati, has been sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of a Corryville section butcher who was shot during a hold-up last April 28.

A Hamilton County Common Pleas Court jury convicted Miller Nov. 22 in the slaying of Gary Herman Renzenbrink, 27, but recommended mercy. Judge Fred L. Hofman sentenced Miller Monday.

Soviet Given Protests By U.S., Britain

MOSCOW (AP) — Five or six men attacked and searched the American and British military attaches in Moscow after they were served apparently drugged wine on a trip this month near the Romanian border, the two embassies charged in protest notes to the Soviet government.

An American spokesman said today the Soviet reply "was not considered satisfactory" and that further protests are being considered in Washington and London.

The U.S. Embassy and the British Foreign Office said the incident occurred Nov. 17 when the British attache, Brig. C. A. des N. Harper and U.S. Col. William J. Spahr of Philadelphia, Pa., were visiting Kishniev, capital of Soviet Moldavia.

The attaches toured an experimental winemaking farm in the area at the suggestion of their Soviet guide, sampled its wines and sherries and ate food. On returning to their hotel room they became ill, vomited and went to bed, a statement from the British Foreign Office said.

"A subsequent medical examination gave material evidence for suspicion that the wine had been tampered with," the British statement continued.

About four hours later, according to the British, five or six men broke into the room, "forcibly held the attaches down, tore open their clothes and removed their money belts which contained personal papers."

The papers were returned after about an hour and the attaches did not suffer serious injuries, the U.S. spokesman said.

The intruders broke glasses and an ashtray and tore down a curtain, then charged the attaches with the property damage and said there had been complaints of noise in the room, the British said.

Rookie Officer Tells How He Got Into Dope Group

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — A rookie policeman told today how he infiltrated a group of marijuana-smoking high school students in an attempt to halt the peddling of narcotics to teen-agers.

Patrolman Glenn Boggs, 23, said he enrolled in Corpus Christi High School, got himself kicked out twice for cutting classes and faked "getting high" on marijuana to win the youths' confidence.

He compiled a list of 200 teen-agers he said he observed smoking marijuana or taking pills. Thirteen persons, one an adult and the others under 21, have been charged as dealers suspected of selling to teen-agers as a result of his investigation. Police say they expect more arrests.

Boggs said he spent two months and two weeks with the teen-age set.

"Boy, those people were real paranoid," the officer said in an interview. "The first buy I made, the peddler said 'hey, man, are you a narc?' (federal agent)? I replied yeah, man, I am—twice on Sundays and every day of the week.

"That's the way most of them were—suspicious of everything, but they would always make the sale."

He attended marijuana parties and faked smoking by sucking around his fingers, breathing deep and cupping his hands, he related. Sometimes he slept on nearby island with the teen-agers or at their parents' homes.

"Some of those kids have all the money in the world," Boggs said. "They were just hanging around the marijuana because it's some kind of a status symbol. They aren't hippies.

"This (marijuana) is their life. People can say it's not addictive or bad for you, but every one of them I've known and dealt with—well that's all they think and talk about."

He said the students made trips to buy marijuana in Mexico and sold it for $4 to $6 for a matchbox of the stuff or 50 cents for a cigarette-style smoke.

Boggs said marijuana was a "24-hour a-day deal with them," and they even smoked it in the restrooms at school.

Boggs said most of the teen-agers would not sell marijuana for a profit but supplied their friends in an attempt to gain status.

"They just wanted to turn everybody on," he said. "They want to turn the world on."

His masquerade came to an end when he ran into old Navy buddy who told the teen-agers Boggs was a policeman.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The reply to the enormously overweight man was an eye opener. You said, "Now that you've surrounded yourself with a fortress of flesh, try to learn, if you can, what you're hiding from!"

I long have been convinced that there is something more to obesity than the fact that people enjoy food. My sister-in-law was a slender, beautiful bride — 12 years ago. She also was deeply religious. Shortly after her marriage she told me in the strictest of confidence that sex was repulsive to her and she so hated it that she made up a series of excuses which she uses regularly.

The woman now weighs 240 pounds (she's 5 feet 4) and it makes me sad to look at her. I told my husband I believe his sister has made herself fat as a cow so she will be physically unattractive to her husband in the hope he'll leave her alone completely. He says I'm crazy. What do you say?—AMATEUR SHRINKER.

-:-

Dear Ann: I say you might be right. And I also say something else. It was rock bottom to pass on information told to you in confidence. You should be ashamed of yourself for betraying your sister-in-law.

Errant Papa

Dear Ann: The letter from Wabash Blues is very much like my story. I also married a divorced man whose wife had walked out and left a little boy nearly 3 years old. If Wabash thinks she's a nervous wreck now, tell her to wait a few years.

My husband always took the boy's part against teachers, neighbors, me — anyone who criticized him. He never saw anything wrong with Denny.

When we began to get calls from the juvenile authorities, I took the boy for counseling. Three different counselors said the same thing, "There is nothing wrong with the child. It is his dad. He is ruining the boy by giving in to him, fighting his battles and making excuses for him."

I tried to get my husband to see what he was doing but he accused me of being jealous of the child, so I gave up.

Today Denny is in prison. He starts the second year of a five-year term in December. The boy is only 17 and his life already is ruined.

Please keep hammering away at foolish parents who think they are being good to their kids when they let them have whatever they want. — TRIED BUT FAILED.

-:-

Dear Tried: Thank you for your letter. The sin of this father is indeed being visited upon his son.

Southern Cal Retains Lead In Final Collegiate Poll

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Basketball season is fast upon us, with college quints across the nation kicking off their seasons Friday night.

Everyone agrees that UCLA is number one, but after that there is little agreement. The three best known basketball magazines, rating the top 20, only have 10 teams in common. Their consensus top 10 after UCLA, is Louisville, Houston, Dayton, North Carolina, Kansas, Boston College, Princeton, Davidson and Marquette. The AP top 10 agrees well with this except it puts Vanderbilt, ignored by two of the magazines, number nine.

WEST VIRGINIA rates a ninth and tenth for a consensus 11th. Other highly-regarded teams are Syracuse, Toledo, Purdue, Marshall, Tulsa, Duke, Notre Dame and Indiana. Only time will tell how good the predictions are.

In All-America selections, there are four unanimous picks — Lew Alcindor, of UCLA, of course; Elvin Hayes of Houston, Wesley Unseld of Louisville and Don May of Dayton. The other first team picks are Butch Beard of Louisville, Calvin Murphy of Niagara and Russ Critchfield of California, but the consensus choice to fill out the top five is Lucious Allen of UCLA. Consensus second team is Larry Miller of North Carolina, Beard, Murphy, Ron Williams of West Virginia and Chris Thomforde of Princeton. Consensus third team is sophomore Pete Maravich of LSU, Joe Allen of Bradley, Critchfield, Bill Hosket of Ohio State and Jo-Jo White of Kansas.

Calvin Murphy, of course, is everyone's choice as the number one sophomore in the country. The 5-10 Mighty Mite averaged 48.9 points per game as a frosh. Maravich averaged over 40 as a freshman. He is the son of the LSU coach, Pres Maravich, formerly of Aliquippa.

DENNIS WUYCIK of Ambridge is tabbed to be the best high school player in the country this year. John Fraley of Middletown is Ohio's lone representative among the top 25 players, being selected for the second team. Wilbert Robinson of Luarel Highlands, Pa., is picked on the fifth team. Chuck Carthorn of Sharon is among the Top 100 and among the Top 500 are Montel Brundage of Pittsburgh Schenley, Danny Young of New Castle, Mike Austin of Canton Timken, Don Osby of Steubenville, Bruce Fowler of Canton Lincoln, Chris Brown of Columbus Linden McKinley, Robert Bentley of Chauncey-Dover, Ed Rush of Strasburg, Ron Claybourne and Nick Witherspoon of Canton McKinley, Woody Johnson of Cambridge and Terry Williamson of Triadelphia, W. Va.

Tennessee 2nd, Oklahoma 3rd

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern California is king of 1967 college football.

John McKay's Trojans were awarded 474 points today to 436 to Tennessee in the final Associated Press major college poll.

Southern California, which finished its regular season with a 9-1 record, received 36 first-place ballots in voting by a panel of 49 sports writers and broadcasters.

Tennessee, 8-1 with one regular season game remaining before its Orange Bowl date with Oklahoma, received 11 first-place votes.

Oklahoma was third with 311 points, followed by Indiana with 245 and Notre Dame with 243.

Indiana, Southern Cal's Rose Bowl opponent, dropped out of the Top Ten after losing to Minnesota, but the Hoosiers roared back to gain fourth after upsetting Purdue and finish with a regular-season 9-1 mark.

Notre Dame got one first-place vote and so did Sugar Bowl-bound Wyoming, which finished sixth with 222 points.

Rounding out the Top Ten are Oregon State, Alabama, Purdue and Penn State.

Besides Indiana, Penn State is the only new member of the Top Ten. It was a last-chance situation for the Gator Bowl-bound Nittany Lions, who had not been in the Top Ten before at any time this season.

UCLA, fourth last week before being upset by Syracuse, and Houston, 10th before being surprised by Tulsa, dropped out of the rankings.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-etc basis:

1. Southern Cal (36)	474
2. Tennessee (11)	436
3. Oklahoma	311
4. Indiana	245
5. Notre Dame (1)	342
6. Wyoming (1)	222
7. Oregon State	154
8. Alabama	152
9. Purdue	150
10. Penn State	98

Southern To Bank On Sophomores

Al Girome, starting his sixth year as basketball coach at Southern Local, hopes to improve last year's 7-11 record despite only one returning letterman.

The main reason for Girome's optimism is a group of sophs up from an unbeaten freshman team. Four of these boys will be on the varsity, 6-1 Frank Francis, 6-0 George Thompson and Jim Bettis, and 5-10 Rob Carter. The returning letterman is Jay Clapsaddle, 6-1, and other seniors on the team are Dave Rowley, 5-10; Mike Cramer, 5-8; Don Smith, 5-8; and Lon Excell, 6-2. Excell is a transfer from Jackson Canton. Rounding out the squad are juniors Rich Rose, 5-10, Ron Malone, 5-11 and Bob Smith, 6-1.

Graduating from last year's team were John McCord, Gene Goddard, Dwain McKenzie, Mike Kerns, Wayne Wallace, Stan Hays and Denny Pierson.

Baseball Takes Steps To Eliminate Spitter

By CHARLES GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — "If a pitcher is clever enough he can throw anything he wants. We are just trying to make sure he doesn't want to throw a spitball."

That was the way Paul Richards, general manager of the Atlanta Braves, reasoned the latest change in baseball rules, a change designed to put some teeth in the ban against the spitball.

The Playing Rules Committee amended Rule 802A Monday, to prohibit a pitcher from touching his mouth or lips or spitting in his hand, glove or on the ball. The first violation brings a warning from the umpire, the second automatic expulsion from the game.

Richards, who proposed the change, said, "It is too late when a manager complains after a pitcher has thrown a spitter. It's all over then and there's no proof. So it must be stopped sooner, at the mouth, where 85 per cent of the foreign substances come from."

The rule applies at the start of next season even to those pitchers who touch their mouth in nervous habit, even if they've never thrown a spitter in their lives.

Spitballs were banned at the start of the 1920 season but 19 pitchers who were throwing spitters then were allowed to continue the practice until retirement.

Burleigh Grimes of the St. Louis Cardinals, who retired in the mid-1930s, was the last of the legal spitball pitchers.

But pitchers kept up the practice on the sly. Almost every team in the major leagues has at least one wetball pitcher although Cal Koonce of the New York Mets in the only active hurler to make a public admisson that his pitches have something on them other than natural effort.

Charles Sega, president of the Playing Rules Committee, announced the change on the first day of the annual winter baseball meetings. It was suggested during an unprecedented meeting of managers and general managers of the 20 major league clubs.

"This is the first step," Segar said, indicating more drastic action might be taken if disqualifcaton from the game isn't enough.

The managers and general managers also acted on ideas put forth by Commissioner William D. Eckert to speed up play and improve the game's image.

These included giving the umpire sole authority to determine if a ball is in good enough condition to keep in the game and asking all clubs to use golf carts to haul relief pitchers and pinch hitters from distant bullpens.

The ball proposal would keep pitchers from delaying the game by asking for several new balls an inning and stop batters from stepping from the box to ask for a new ball.

In other developments, Phil Piton, 64, announced his retirement, effective in December 1968, as president of the National Association (minor leagues) and Joe DiMaggio, executive vice president of the Oakland Athletics, announced the appointment of Bill Cutler as vice president in charge of public relations. Cutler had been an administrative assistant in the office of the American League president.

The New York Mets acquired catcher J.C. Martin from the Chicago White Sox and sent pitcher Bill Denehy to Washington to complete deals made earlier.

Today's big business included the draft of minor league players but the pickings were slim. Oakland had the first choice.

Fairmont Tackle On Small-College A-A

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Stars from 22 different colleges, led by an outstanding center and a trio of repeaters from the 1966 team, were named to the 1967 Little College All-America football team today following a national survey of coaches and newsmen.

The highly rated center is Victor Bender of Northeast Louisiana State, while two of the repeaters are halfbacks Carl Garrett of New Mexico Highlands and Don Hass of the powerful Montana State aggregation.

Despite his second straight appearance on the star-studded roster of small college heroes, the 6-foot, 215-pound runner for the New Mexico Cowboys is only a junior and has a chance next season to be named a third time.

If he does, he will equal the record of Eddie Lebaron, then of the College of the Pacific and later a National Football League star, who was named in 1947, 1948 and 1949.

At the helm of the 1967 aggregation is Charles "Chuck" McKee of Lawrence, a leader as well as an athlete. He is the only athlete in the past 20 years for whom unsolicited recommendations from all coaches whose teams he opposed were received.

McKee, among the national leaders in all phases of offense, is a high school buddy of Rocky Blier, the Notre Dame captain, but came to Lawrence for its premed course, in which he is a B-plus student.

His presence on the first team moved Bob "Holy" Toledo of San Francisco State to the second team and Gary Sandbo of Augustana College in Sioux Falls, S.D., to the honorable mention. Toledo is the nation's leader in total offense among the smaller colleges while the physically smal Sandbo — he's only 5-foot-9 and weighs 175 at most — is the only player to have gained 1,000 yards or more in each of his three seasons in the rugged North Central Conference.

Completing the backfield is Lee White of Weber, whom some scouts have rated the best fullback in the country. He carries a bruising-hard 232 pounds on his 6-4 frame.

The third repeater from the 1966 team is DeWayne Nix of Texas A&I, at end. Like Garrett, he has a year of eligibility remaining and could equal the Lebaron records. He relies on speed and agility, lacking the physical stature usually expected of an end or a Texan. He stands 5-11 and weighs 180.

The other end is Haven Moses of San Diego State and one of the main reasons the Californians have had two such outstanding seasons in a row. He is 6-3 and 196 and is expected to go in the first round of the approaching pro draft.

Eddie Joyner of Lenior Rhyne, up from last season's second team, and John Gloistein of Wagner's unbeaten Seahawks are the tackles. Spergon Wynn of Lamar Tech and Leland Hughes of Delta State are the guards.

The first and second line of defense averages just above 222 pounds a man. At the ends are William Hanna of Northern Arizona State and Jeff Queen of Morgan State. The defensive tackles are Claude Humphrey, Tennessee A&I, and Dave Williams of Fairmont, W.Va.

Ray Pedersen of Northern Iowa University is the 218-pound middle guard with Robert Beers of Montana, Dave Ragusa of Rochester and Richard Jaeger of Gustavus Adolphus the linebackers.

Major Hazelton of Florida A&M and Steve Dockery of Maryville, Tenn., are the defensive halfbacks with Robert Willbanks of Arlington-Texas the safety.

Lead All-Star Team

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) Gary Beban of UCLA and O.J. Simpson of Southern California led the all-star team announced Monday by the American Football Coaches Association.

Beban Front Runner For Heisman Trophy

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Gary Beban, UCLA's scrambling quarterback, appeared to have the inside track today in a three-way battle with Southern California's O. J. Simpson and Purdue's Leroy Keyes for the coveted Heisman Trophy.

The winner of the trophy, awarded annually to the nation's outstanding collegiate football player, will be announced today.

A study of statistics shows little to choose between Beban, the nation's top signal caller, and Simpson and Keyes, two powerful running backs, but it was expected the UCLA star would gain the award because he is the only senior in the trio.

In a showdown between Beban and Simpson two weeks ago, USC beat UCLA 21-20 and gained the host spot in the Rose Bowl. Beban passed for 301 yards and Simpson rushed for 177, including two touchdowns.

USC moved into first place in The Associated Press poll after that game and UCLA slipped badly the following week, losing to Syracuse.

"But that game didn't change anything," said one selector. "We voted before it was played. I voted for Beban and so did a lot of others."

Beban finished the season with a total offense figure of 1,586 yards on 301 plays. He accounted for 19 touchdowns passing and rushing and set 10 UCLA career offensive records.

"It is inconceivable that anyone could be of more value to a team than Beban is to ours," says his coach, Tommy Prothro. "He can beat you every way."

Simpson was a workhorse in the USC backfield and riddled enemy lines for 1,415 yards and 11 touchdowns in 266 carries.

A junior transfer from the City College of San Francisco, O. J., who is nicknamed Orange Juice after his favorite liquid refreshment, gained 150 yards or more in seven of USC's 10 games.

Simpson, who runs 100 yards in 9.4 seconds and has been clocked in 4.5 for 40 yards, is a member of USC's record-breaking 440-yard relay team.

Keyes scored 13 touchdowns for Purdue, rushing 149 times for 986 yards. He also completed five of 10 passes for 59 yards and three TDs, and caught 45 passes for 758 yards and six TDs.

A rangy 6-foot-3, 199 pounds, he wears contact lenses and is almost as strong defensively as he is offensively.

Keyee is the nation's leading scorer with 19 TDs.

Last year's Heisman winner was quarterback Steve Spurrier of Florida, now with the professional San Francisco 49ers.

Gogol Named To Mountaineer All-Star Team

Center Rich Gogol was the only member of the Oak Glen Golden Bear football team to make the Mountaineer League all-star team.

Honorable mention were Dan Crago, Harold Marshall, Tom McGeehan and Steve Staley.

Wheeling Central and Weirton dominated the team with five players each, while Follansbee and Tridelphia placed three each.

The Kentucky Colonels finally took a step toward curing one of their major ailments — a lack of scoring.

The Colonels jumped to a 31-19 lead in the first quarter Monday night and went on to trounce the New Jersey Americans 138-100 for their first American Basketball Association victory in four games and the first ever under new coach Gene Rhodes.

In the only other ABA game, Art Becker poured in 30 points to lead the Houston Mavericks to 101-87 victory over the Pittsburgh Pipers, who were paced by Ira Harge's 18 points.

There were no games scheduled in the National Basketball Association.

Stanton Places Two On Team

Stanton Local placed two men on the 27 - man Eastern Ohio Athletic League all - star football team.

Bill Koehnlein was named at end and Elmer Tice at fullback. Tiltonsville led with four men on the team. Titonsville was champion of the 11-team league.

Southern Cal Retains Lead In Final Collegiate Poll

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Basketball season is fast upon us, with college quints across the nation kicking off their seasons Friday night.

Everyone agrees that UCLA is number one, but after that there is little agreement. The three best known basketball magazines, rating the top 20, only have 10 teams in common. Their consensus top 10 after UCLA, is Louisville, Houston, Dayton, North Carolina, Kansas, Boston College, Princeton, Davidson and Marquette. The AP top 10 agrees well with this except it puts Vanderbilt, ignored by two of the magazines, number nine.

WEST VIRGINIA rates a ninth and tenth for a consensus 11th. Other highly-regarded teams are Syracuse, Toledo, Purdue, Marshall, Tulsa, Duke, Notre Dame and Indiana. Only time will tell how good the predictions are.

In All-America selections, there are four unanimous picks — Lew Alcindor, of UCLA, of course; Elvin Hayes of Houston, Wesley Unseld of Louisville and Don May of Dayton. The other first team picks are Butch Beard of Louisville, Calvin Murphy of Niagara and Russ Critchfield of California, but the consensus choice to fill out the top five is Lucious Allen of UCLA. Consensus second team is Larry Miller of North Carolina, Beard, Murphy, Ron Williams of West Virginia and Chris Thomforde of Princeton. Consensus third team is sophomore Pete Maravich of LSU, Joe Allen of Bradley, Critchfield, Bill Hosket of Ohio State and Jo-Jo White of Kansas.

Calvin Murphy, of course, is everyone's choice as the number one sophomore in the country. The 5-10 Mighty Mite averaged 48.9 points per game as a frosh. Maravich averaged over 40 as a freshman. He is the son of the LSU coach, Pres Maravich, formerly of Aliquippa.

DENNIS WUYCIK of Ambridge is tabbed to be the best high school player in the country this year. John Fraley of Middletown is Ohio's lone representative among the top 25 players, being selected for the second team. Wilbert Robinson of Luarel Highlands, Pa., is picked on the fifth team. Chuck Carthorn of Sharon is among the Top 100 and among the Top 500 are Montel Brundage of Pittsburgh Schenley, Danny Young of New Castle, Mike Austin of Canton Timken, Don Osby of Steubenville, Bruce Fowler of Canton Lincoln, Chris Brown of Columbus Linden McKinley, Robert Bentley of Chauncey-Dover, Ed Rush of Strasburg, Ron Claybourne and Nick Witherspoon of Canton McKinley, Woody Johnson of Cambridge and Terry Williamson of Triadelphia, W. Va.

Tennessee 2nd, Oklahoma 3rd

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern California is king of 1967 college football.

John McKay's Trojans were awarded 474 points today to 436 to Tennessee in the final Associated Press major college poll.

Southern California, which finished its regular season with a 9-1 record, received 36 first-place ballots in voting by a panel of 49 sports writers and broadcasters.

Tennessee, 8-1 with one regular season game remaining before its Orange Bowl date with Oklahoma, received 11 first-place votes.

Oklahoma was third with 311 points, followed by Indiana with 245 and Notre Dame with 243.

Indiana, Southern Cal's Rose Bowl opponent, dropped out of the Top Ten after losing to Minnesota, but the Hoosiers roared back to gain fourth after upsetting Purdue and finish with a regular-season 9-1 mark.

Notre Dame got one first-place vote and so did Sugar Bowl-bound Wyoming, which finished sixth with 222 points.

Rounding out the Top Ten are Oregon State, Alabama, Purdue and Penn State.

Besides Indiana, Penn State is the only new member of the Top Ten. It was a last-chance situation for the Gator Bowl-bound Nittany Lions, who had not been in the Top Ten before at any time this season.

UCLA, fourth last week before being upset by Syracuse, and Houston, 10th before being surprised by Tulsa, dropped out of the rankings.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-etc basis:

1.	Southern Cal (36)	474
2.	Tennessee (11)	436
3.	Oklahoma	311
4.	Indiana	245
5.	Notre Dame (1)	342
6.	Wyoming (1)	222
7.	Oregon State	154
8.	Alabama	152
9.	Purdue	150
10.	Penn State	98

Southern To Bank On Sophomores

Al Girome, starting his sixth year as basketball coach at Southern Local, hopes to improve last year's 7-11 record despite only one returning letterman.

The main reason for Girome's optimism is a group of sophs up from an unbeaten freshman team. Four of these boys will be on the varsity, 6-1 Frank Francis, 6-0 George Thompson and Jim Bettis, and 5-10 Rob Carter. The returning letterman is Jay Clapsaddle, 6-1, and other seniors on the team are Dave Rowley, 5-10; Mike Cramer, 5-8; Don Smith, 5-8; and Lon Excell, 6-2. Excell is a transfer from Jackson Canton. Rounding out the squad are juniors Rich Rose, 5-10, Ron Malone, 5-11 and Bob Smith, 6-1.

Graduating from last year's team were John McCord, Gene Goddard, Dwain McKenzie, Mike Kerns, Wayne Wallace, Stan Hays and Denny Pierson.

Baseball Takes Steps To Eliminate Spitter

By CHARLES GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — "If a pitcher is clever enough he can throw anything he wants. We are just trying to make sure he doesn't want to throw a spitball."

That was the way Paul Richards, general manager of the Atlanta Braves, reasoned the latest change in baseball rules, a change designed to put some teeth in the ban against the spitball.

The Playing Rules Committee amended Rule 802A Monday, to prohibit a pitcher from touching his mouth or lips or spitting in his hand, glove or on the ball. The first violation brings a warning from the umpire, the second automatic expulsion from the game.

Richards, who proposed the change, said, "It is too late when a manager complains after a pitcher has thrown a spitter. It's all over then and there's no proof. So it must be stopped sooner, at the mouth, where 85 per cent of the foreign substances come from."

The rule applies at the start of next season even to those pitchers who touch their mouth in nervous habit, even if they've never thrown a spitter in their lives.

Spitballs were banned at the start of the 1920 season but 19 pitchers who were throwing spitters then were allowed to continue the practice until retirement.

Burleigh Grimes of the St. Louis Cardinals, who retired in the mid-1930s, was the last of the legal spitball pitchers.

But pitchers kept up the practice on the sly. Almost every team in the major leagues has at least one wetball pitcher although Cal Koonce of the New York Mets in the only active hurler to make a public admisson that his pitches have something on them other than natural effort.

Charles Sega, president of the Playing Rules Committee, announced the change on the first day of the annual winter baseball meetings. It was suggested during an unprecedented meeting of managers and general managers of the 20 major league clubs.

"This is the first step," Segar said, indicating more drastic action might be taken if disqualifcaton from the game isn't enough.

The managers and general managers also acted on ideas put forth by Commissioner William D. Eckert to speed up play and improve the game's image.

These included giving the umpire sole authority to determine if a ball is in good enough condition to keep in the game and asking all clubs to use golf carts to haul relief pitchers and pinch hitters from distant bullpens.

The ball proposal would keep pitchers from delaying the game by asking for several new balls an inning and stop batters from stepping from the box to ask for a new ball.

In other developments, Phil Piton, 64, announced his retirement, effective in December 1968, as president of the National Association (minor leagues) and Joe DiMaggio, executive vice president of the Oakland Athletics, announced the appointment of Bill Cutler as vice president in charge of public relations. Cutler had been an administrative assistant in the office of the American League president.

The New York Mets acquired catcher J.C. Martin from the Chicago White Sox and sent pitcher Bill Denehy to Washington to complete deals made earlier.

Today's big business included the draft of minor league players but the pickings were slim. Oakland had the first choice.

Fairmont Tackle On Small-College A-A

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Stars from 22 different colleges, led by an outstanding center and a trio of repeaters from the 1966 team, were named to the 1967 Little College All-America football team today following a national survey of coaches and newsmen.

The highly rated center is Victor Bender of Northeast Louisiana State, while two of the repeaters are halfbacks Carl Garrett of New Mexico Highlands and Don Hass of the powerful Montana State aggregation.

Despite his second straight appearance on the star-studded roster of small college heroes, the 6-foot, 215-pound runner for the New Mexico Cowboys is only a junior and has a chance next season to be named a third time.

If he does, he will equal the record of Eddie Lebaron, then of the College of the Pacific and later a National Football League star, who was named in 1947, 1948 and 1949.

At the helm of the 1967 aggregation is Charles "Chuck" McKee of Lawrence, a leader as well as an athlete. He is the only athlete in the past 20 years for whom unsolicited recommendations from all coaches whose teams he opposed were received.

McKee, among the national leaders in all phases of offense, is a high school buddy of Rocky Blier, the Notre Dame captain, but came to Lawrence for its premed course, in which he is a B-plus student.

His presence on the first team moved Bob "Holy" Toledo of San Francisco State to the second team and Gary Sandbo of Augustana College in Sioux Falls, S.D., to the honorable mention. Toledo is the nation's leader in total offense among the smaller colleges while the physically smal Sandbo — he's only 5-foot-9 and weighs 175 at most — is the only player to have gained 1,000 yards or more in each of his three seasons in the rugged North Central Conference.

Completing the backfield is Lee White of Weber, whom some scouts have rated the best fullback in the country. He carries a bruising-hard 232 pounds on his 6-4 frame.

The third repeater from the 1966 team is DeWayne Nix of Texas A&I, at end. Like Garrett, he has a year of eligibility remaining and could equal the Lebaron records. He relies on speed and agility, lacking the physical stature usually expected of an end or a Texan. He stands 5-11 and weighs 180.

The other end is Haven Moses of San Diego State and one of the main reasons the Californians have had two such outstanding seasons in a row. He is 6-3 and 196 and is expected to go in the first round of the approaching pro draft.

Eddie Joyner of Lenior Rhyne, up from last season's second team, and John Gloistein of Wagner's unbeaten Seahawks are the tackles. Spergon Wynn of Lamar Tech and Leland Hughes of Delta State are the guards.

The first and second line of defense averages just above 222 pounds a man. At the ends are William Hanna of Northern Arizona State and Jeff Queen of Morgan State. The defensive tackles are Claude Humphrey, Tennessee A&I, and Dave Williams of Fairmont, W.Va.

Ray Pedersen of Northern Iowa University is the 218-pound middle guard with Robert Beers of Montana, Dave Ragusa of Rochester and Richard Jaeger of Gustavus Adolphus the linebackers.

Major Hazelton of Florida A&M and Steve Dockery of Maryville, Tenn., are the defensive halfbacks with Robert Willbanks of Arlington-Texas the safety.

Purdue Dominates Big 10 All-Star Football Team

CHICAGO (AP) — Offensive tackle Dick Himes of Canton, Ohio, is the only Ohio State player on the 1967 All-Big Ten football team selected by the Associated Press.

Linebacker Dirk Worden and defensive halfback Ted Provost of the Buckeyes were second team selections.

The first team offensive backfield was dominated by Purdue. Ron Johnson of Michigan joined Boilermakers Mike Phipps, Leroy Keyes and Perry Williams.

In the line the selections were: Jim Beirne, Purdue, and John Wright, Illinois, ends; Himes and John Williams, Minnesota, tackles; Bruce Gunstra, Northwestern, and Gary Cassells, Indiana, guards; and Joe Dayton, Michigan, center.

Bob Stein of Minnesota and George Chatlos of Michigan State were the defensive ends, joined by tackles McKinley Boston of Minnesota and Tom Domres of Wisconsin and center Chuck Kyle of Purdue in the defensive line.

The linebackers were Ken Kaczmarek, Indiana; Jim Snidadecki, Indiana, and Ken Critter, Wisconsin.

Defensive backs on the first team were Tom Sakal, Minnesota; Ron Bess, Illinois, and Tom Garretson, Northwestern.

Ohio State players receiving honorable mention were Billy Anders, Paul Schmidlin, Dave Brungard, Dave Foley, Tom Portsmouth and Jim Nein.

Stanton Has 4 Lettermen Back

Dave Murray posted a 7-11 mark last season in his first year as Stanton Local basketball coach, but he expects to improve that this time around.

Murray has four lettermen back and only lost two. Dave Smith was hurt in football and 6-2 Tony Smolinsky, the top rebounder, graduated.

East Palestine Strong With 4 Returning Vets

East Palestine went 12-7 in basketball last season, but Paul Swinderman, starting his fourth year there, thinks the 1967-68 Bulldog club can do even better.

Basis for Swinderman's optimism are four lettermen, seniors Bill Lewis 5-10, Dan McKinstry 5-11, Jim Taucher 6-2 and Tom Hunston 5-9. Lewis is going after his third letter. His brother, 6-1 junior Joe Lewis, is expected to be the fifth starter. Others that will help are senior Jim Jones, 6-0, and Juniors Terry Lip, 6-1; Bill Knight, 5-11; and Ralph Ross, 5-9.

Lost from last year's team that Swinderman ran in two platoons are Jim Parker, the top scorer, Joe Thompson, who is overage; and Jim Kunkle, Dan Scott and Gary Hawkins.

The Bulldogs will play "conservative" ball, according to Swinderman, and will run only when they have to. Defense will be basically man-to-man. He bemoans a lack of height, but says intensive shooting practice is beginning to pay off.

He picks Minerva, Poland and Sebring as the chief threats in the Tri-County League.

Bruins Top NHL Score Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — Boston's rejuvenated Bruins, led by veteran Johnny Bucyk, dominate the top of the National Hockey League scoring race.

Official NHL statistics released today show Bucyk in second place, three points back of Chicago's Bobby Hull, whose 27 points on 18 goals and nine assists still leads the league.

Bucyk picked up eight points on two goals and six assists last week and boosted his season's total to 11-13—24. A 13-year NHL veteran, Bucyk has scored 227 career goals with the Bruins, just two shy of the club record held by Boston's current general manager, Milt Schmidt.

Right behind Bucyk in the scoring race come two more Bruins, Fred Stanfield and John McKenzie, tied for third place with 23 points apiece. The trio has helped Boston — last place finishers in six of the last seven seasons — grab the early NHL lead.

Another Bruin, Phil Esposito, is tied with New York's Jean Ratelle and Detroit's Alex Delvecchio for eighth place with 19 points — one point back of Detroit's Gordie Howe, Montreal's Yvan Curnoyer and Pittsburgh's Andy Bathgate, who share fifth place.

Bowlers To Meet

The City Bowling Association will meet at 2 p.m. Sunday at the YMCA to set up the City Bowling Tournament and to elect a treasurer.

Grass is the most important crop in the U.S. so far as acreage is concerned.

Palmer Golf Academies Opening

NEW YORK (AP) — An Arnold Palmer Golf Academy, for boys 11-17 years old, will begin operation in Vail, Colo., next summer — possibly the first of a national string of such schools designed to teach the "Palmer Method."

"If this one gets off the ground, I'd certainly like to see more of them go into operation," Palmer said Monday. "Possibly in upstate New York or New England, certainly in Florida, maybe in California or the Southwest.

"The idea is to offer golf instruction to the beginners, the kids with a 36 handicap, all the way to the scratch golfer," he said.

"We want to teach golf rules, etiquette as well as the playing of the game, the mechanical side.

"I've been surprised, playing in international matches like the World Cup in Mexico, at professionals who don't really know the rules. We'll teach that.

"On the playing of the game, we'll teach the Palmer Method, target golf. If a boy can hit an iron 180 yards, we want to teach him to hit it 170 yards and control it.

"It's the same thing I've talked about in books. Any professional will do it differently, will teach differently. Jack Nicklaus would teach it different from me in some phases of the game. In some phases we might be pretty close. But I want to teach complete golf."

Palmer himself will do very little instructing at the layout now under construction 110 miles from Denver.

"I'll try to do a clinic for each class," he said, "but I can't say definitely what my schedule will be."

Crestview Lacks Veterans, Coach Hilbun Optimistic

Despite only two returning lettermen, Jim Hilbun sees a chance for Crestview to improve its 9-9 mark of a year ago, his first as coach there.

Stanton Has 4 Lettermen Back

Dave Murray posted a 7-11 mark last season in his first year as Stanton Local basketball coach, but he expects to improve that this time around.

Murray has four lettermen back and only lost two. Dave Smith was hurt in football and 6-2 Tony Smolinsky, the top rebounder, graduated.

Returning lettermen are junior Dave Olesky, 5-9, and seniors Elmer Tice, 5-9; Cliff Slusher, 6-2; and Randy Frampton, 6-1. Others that will see action are Bill Koehnlein, a 6-2 junior, John Reese, a 5-9 senior, and Frank Gruszecki, a 5-11 junior.

Murray expects to go with a fast break offense and a man-to-man defense, and will use a high or low post on offense depending on the defense. He tabs Wayne and Mt. Pleasant as the teams to beat in the Eastern Ohio Athletic League, of which Stanton is a member.

New Leetonia Coach Hopes To Up 11-7 Mark

Leetonia has only three lettermen returning from last year's 11-7 team, but new coach Art Kovacs thinks that this year's team could improve on that mark.

The veterans back are junior Ed Casey, 6-2 and seniors Dan Bell, 6-1 and Jay Bland, 5-10. Lettermen gone from last year are Bill Dinsio, 5-9; Paul Casey, 6-3; Jim Scullion, 5-11 and Ed Woods, 6-1.

Others counted on to help this season are seniors Dave Wilhelm, 5-10, and Dave Scullion, 6-0, and juniors Allen Gibson, 6-1; Rick Shriver, 6-0; Ken DiCross, 5-9; Tim Trombitas, 6-0; and Ted Conrad, 6-1.

Lisbon Hopes To Better Last Year's 4-14 Mark

The Lisbon Blue Devils posted a 4-14 basketball record last season, but with a three-letterman nucleus coach Gary Pike expects to better that mark this time around.

Pike, in his eighth season at the Lisbon helm, has 6-4 Stanley Barefield, 5-9 Bill Hartman and 5-7 Terry Apple, all seniors, to build around. Mike Rutecki, a senior, and Jim Courtney, a sophomore, are expected to round out the starting five. Both are 6-1. Also being counted on to help are Jim Morgan, a 6-0 senior, Dave McCammon, a 6-1 sophomore, and Ken Cameron, a 6-1 senior. The Blue Devils lost top scorer Don Blair, Barry Lowry and Roger Nold from last year's team.

Pike hopes to have the Blue Devils running on offense and will use both zone and man-to-man defenses. He tabs Poland and East Palestine as the top teams in the Tri-County League.

East Palestine Strong With 4 Returning Vets

East Palestine went 12-7 in basketball last season, but Paul Swinderman, starting his fourth year there, thinks the 1967-68 Bulldog club can do even better.

Basis for Swinderman's optimism are four lettermen, seniors Bill Lewis 5-10, Dan McKinstry 5-11, Jim Taucher 6-2 and Tom Hunston 5-9. Lewis is going after his third letter. His brother, 6-1 junior Joe Lewis, is expected to be the fifth starter. Others that will help are senior Jim Jones, 6-0, and Juniors Terry Lip, 6-1; Bill Knight, 5-11; and Ralph Ross, 5-9.

Lost from last year's team that Swinderman ran in two platoons are Jim Parker, the top scorer, Joe Thompson, who is overage; and Jim Kunkle, Dan Scott and Gary Hawkins.

The Bulldogs will play "conservative" ball, according to Swinderman, and will run only when they have to. Defense will be basically man-to-man. He bemoans a lack of height, but says intensive shooting practice is beginning to pay off.

He picks Minerva, Poland and Sebring as the chief threats in the Tri-County League.

Palmer Golf Academies Opening

NEW YORK (AP) — An Arnold Palmer Golf Academy, for boys 11-17 years old, will begin operation in Vail, Colo., next summer — possibly the first of a national string of such schools designed to teach the "Palmer Method."

"If this one gets off the ground, I'd certainly like to see more of them go into operation," Palmer said Monday. "Possibly in upstate New York or New England, certainly in Florida, maybe in California or the Southwest.

"The idea is to offer golf instruction to the beginners, the kids with a 36 handicap, all the way to the scratch golfer," he said.

"We want to teach golf rules, etiquette as well as the playing of the game, the mechanical side.

"I've been surprised, playing in international matches like the World Cup in Mexico, at professionals who don't really know the rules. We'll teach that.

"On the playing of the game, we'll teach the Palmer Method, target golf. If a boy can hit an iron 180 yards, we want to teach him to hit it 170 yards and control it.

"It's the same thing I've talked about in books. Any professional will do it differently, will teach differently. Jack Nicklaus would teach it different from me in some phases of the game. In some phases we might be pretty close. But I want to teach complete golf."

Palmer himself will do very little instructing at the layout now under construction 110 miles from Denver.

"I'll try to do a clinic for each class," he said, "but I can't say definitely what my schedule will be."

Beavers Outgain Opponents

The Beaver Local football team, despite a 4-6 record this year, outgained their opponents, according to statistics compiled by team statistician Darryl Valentine.

As expected, the Beavers built their superiority in the air, with 1,141 yards passing to 602 for their opponents. On the ground BL was outgained 1,850-1,427, but total yardage favored the Beavers 2,568 to 2,452. Don Ross' club also led its opponents in first downs, 104-101.

Beaver Local attempted 194 passes and completed 85, for 44 per cent, while the opponents managed 46 of 104 for 44 per cent also. The Beavers lost 15 fumbles to 12 by their opposition, but intercepted 10 passes to five by the opponents.

Penalty yardage was very close, with BL having a 486-471 edge. Beaver Local punted 45 times for a 28 - yard average, while its opponents tried 41 kicks for a 32-yard average.

Crestview Lacks Veterans, Coach Hilbun Optimistic

Despite only two returning lettermen, Jim Hilbun sees a chance for Crestview to improve its 9-9 mark of a year ago, his first as coach there.

The veterans are Randy McBride, 6-1, and Bob Unger, 6-0, both seniors. Others expected to see lots of action are Chuck Lanzendorfer, a 5-11 senior and Jerry Ray, a 5-10 senior. Juniors are Dan Unger, 5-8; Chip McConville, 5-7; Keith Chamberlain, 6-2; and Dave Rankin, 5-7.

Lost from last season were the two high scorers, Jim Bable and John Collella, plus Tom Blair, Jack McCoy, Frank Gregorino and Howard Fitzsimmons.

Hilbun sees the team running on offense and using a pressure defense. He notes that the team is hustling and working real hard so far. He tabs McDonald and Mineral Ridge as the teams to beat in the Inter-County League and says that Beaver Local, Springfield Local (Mahoning) and United Local are other tough teams on the schedule.

Columbiana Looks Up After 6-13 Record

"Columbiana will be an aggressive team" says coach Rich Berryman, starting his 15th season as Clipper basketball coach.

Berryman goes on to say that the Clippers will improve on last year's 6-13 mark, especially if the shooting improves. Three lettermen return, including one starter, 6-2 senior George Vestfals, and five lettermen were lost. The other returning lettermen, both seniors, are Dan Gaughan, 6-1, and Bill Gela, 6-0.

Others on the squad are Dave Morris, a 5-11 senior; Greg Gustafson, a 5-9 senior; Gary Gregg, a 5-10 junior; Bob Daley, a 6-0 junior; and Greg Young, a 6-1 senior. Berryman expects the Clippers to run on offense and use both man-to-man zone defenses. He predicts a wide - open race in the Tri-County League.

Bruins Top NHL Score Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — Boston's rejuvenated Bruins, led by veteran Johnny Bucyk, dominate the top of the National Hockey League scoring race.

Official NHL statistics released today show Bucyk in second place, three points back of Chicago's Bobby Hull, whose 27 points on 18 goals and nine assists still leads the league.

Bucyk picked up eight points on two goals and six assists last week and boosted his season's total to 11-13—24. A 13-year NHL veteran, Bucyk has scored 227 career goals with the Bruins, just two shy of the club record held by Boston's current general manager, Milt Schmidt.

Right behind Bucyk in the scoring race come two more Bruins, Fred Stanfield and John McKenzie, tied for third place with 23 points apiece. The trio has helped Boston — last place finishers in six of the last seven seasons — grab the early NHL lead.

Another Bruin, Phil Esposito, is tied with New York's Jean Ratelle and Detroit's Alex Delvecchio for eighth place with 19 points — one point back of Detroit's Gordie Howe, Montreal's Yvan Curnoyer and Pittsburgh's Andy Bathgate, who share fifth place.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Avoid Those Unwanted Pounds

The power of an attitude is amazing. It is a mistake to anticipate that you will gain pounds galore when you quit smoking. You need not. Be alert to the fact that the sharpened appetite will level off in a short time — unless you pamper it.

Ida Jean Kain

A reader writes: "Is sharpened appetite after one quits smoking mental, or is there something in tobacco that lessens appetite? Does one's metabolism change? Some people refuse to stop smoking for fear of fat. Can a gain be prevented? Is there anything to keep on hand that one can reach for in place of a cigarette?"

Food doesn't suddenly get more fattening, nor is there any change in metabolism when you stop smoking. Here it is: Smoking "anesthetizes" the taste buds, so when you stop smoking food tastes delicious. You will enjoy food more. You need not fall into the trap of enjoying too much food. It is only when you up your "appestat" that you lessen your resistance to overeating.

HAVING A normal appetite is one of life's pleasures. You can devise ways to control hunger beautifully. Use dietary know-how. Certain foods are high in satiety, and serve to appease hunger more effectively than do other foods, quite apart from the calories.

Except for fat, meat has the highest satiety value of all foods. For the next few weeks, plan to have a generous serving of lean meat twice daily. Clear soups and broths which contain meat extractives stimulate the gastric juices and thus provide the important feeling of satisfaction.

At lunch or dinner, start the meal with a piping hot bouillon or a clear soup. It's soothing comfort for a few calories. An open - face sandwich, such as a slice of hot roast beef au jus on a slice of rye bread, will stick to the ribs. Or have an ounce and a half of cheese broiled on a slice of bread. With this have sliced tomatoes or a hot vegetable. Finish with a beverage and fruit.

LET THIS be the dinner pattern: Lean meat, fish or chicken, a vegetable, one starchy food, a crisp salad with French dressing, a favorite fruit or gelatine and hot beverage.

Start the day with a stick-to-the-ribs breakfast. Have an egg and a lean meat pattie, a slice of toast, fruit or juice and coffee. Or have hot cereal with 2 per cent milk, and lean meat, plus juice, toast and coffee.

What to reach for to provide oral satisfaction? Dietetic candy fruit drops, crisp celery and carrot sticks, thin tart apple slices or a glass of water. One reader reached for a glass of water many times a day and claims she felt marvelous.

Let exercise help you. Exercise is a great releaser of tension. Vigorous exercise forces you to breath deeply, which is a help. Exercise is a healthy way to control weight, too.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Avoid Those Unwanted Pounds

The power of an attitude is amazing. It is a mistake to anticipate that you will gain pounds galore when you quit smoking. You need not. Be alert to the fact that the sharpened appetite will level off in a short time — unless you pamper it.

Ida Jean Kain

A reader writes: "Is sharpened appetite after one quits smoking mental, or is there something in tobacco that lessens appetite? Does one's metabolism change? Some people refuse to stop smoking for fear of fat. Can a gain be prevented? Is there anything to keep on hand that one can reach for in place of a cigarette?"

Food doesn't suddenly get more fattening, nor is there any change in metabolism when you stop smoking. Here it is: Smoking "anesthetizes" the taste buds, so when you stop smoking food tastes delicious. You will enjoy food more. You need not fall into the trap of enjoying too much food. It is only when you up your "appestat" that you lessen your resistance to overeating.

HAVING A normal appetite is one of life's pleasures. You can devise ways to control hunger beautifully. Use dietary know-how. Certain foods are high in satiety, and serve to appease hunger more effectively than do other foods, quite apart from the calories.

Except for fat, meat has the highest satiety value of all foods. For the next few weeks, plan to have a generous serving of lean meat twice daily. Clear soups and broths which contain meat extractives stimulate the gastric juices and thus provide the important feeling of satisfaction.

At lunch or dinner, start the meal with a piping hot bouillon or a clear soup. It's soothing comfort for a few calories. An open - face sandwich, such as a slice of hot roast beef au jus on a slice of rye bread, will stick to the ribs. Or have an ounce and a half of cheese broiled on a slice of bread. With this have sliced tomatoes or a hot vegetable. Finish with a beverage and fruit.

LET THIS be the dinner pattern: Lean meat, fish or chicken, a vegetable, one starchy food, a crisp salad with French dressing, a favorite fruit or gelatine and hot beverage.

Start the day with a stick-to-the-ribs breakfast. Have an egg and a lean meat pattie, a slice of toast, fruit or juice and coffee. Or have hot cereal with 2 per cent milk, and lean meat, plus juice, toast and coffee.

What to reach for to provide oral satisfaction? Dietetic candy fruit drops, crisp celery and carrot sticks, thin tart apple slices or a glass of water. One reader reached for a glass of water many times a day and claims she felt marvelous.

Let exercise help you. Exercise is a great releaser of tension. Vigorous exercise forces you to breath deeply, which is a help. Exercise is a healthy way to control weight, too.

Junior Editors Quiz on SAHARA

QUESTION: How was the Sahara Desert formed?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The Sahara Desert lies in the northern part of Africa. There was a time, long ago, when this region was not desert but a land of rivers and vegetation. At that time (upper left), ice sheets covered much of Europe. Moisture from them was blown over northern Africa. As the Ice Age ended, the ice sheets over Europe melted and disappeared (upper right) and, for lack of rain, the land of the Sahara turned into hills and valleys of shifting sand. The Arabs, especially those called Bedouins, made a remarkable adaptation to desert conditions. Living in tents, they made and still make great use of camels to cross the desert country. These unique animals are able to go for a long time on a small amount of water; they do not sweat as other animals do and so conserve moisture. Here and there in the Sahara underground, water bubbles out in the form of springs. Around such an oasis, rich vegetation and palm trees grow, casting refreshing shade.

It's 'C-Mail'

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Ration Boxes Carry Notes

It was "V-Mail" in World War II — flimsy little air mail envelope - letters from Europe and the Pacific.

It's "C-Mail" today — pieces of cardboard from C ration boxes, and Pfc. Sterling Hanselman, 20, of 919 W. 8th St. is startling the local postmen with his unique correspondence.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Hanselman and a 1965 graduate of East Liverpool High School, Hanselman has sent three of the 3-by-6-inch pieces of ration boxes in the last two weeks.

"I have only a short time to write because we are on the move quite a bit around here," was scrawled on one side of the latest. On the other side is printed "MEAL, COMBAT INDIVIDUAL, Ham And Eggs."

Hanselman is a rifleman with the 198th Infantry Regt., and apparently busy on search and destroy missions. "There sure are a lot of mountains and I think they have in mind for us to climb all of them," he commented on cardboard. Written hurriedly on the front, to the right of MEAL, COMBAT INDIVIDUAL, is "Could use 4 pair of Boy Scout socks, summer kind that are long."

Hanselman doesn't write adversely about the C rations which provide his main fare and writing materials. A helicopter flies in hot cooked meals, but he terms them "the worst of the day."

Symptoms Match Last Year's

Tax Increase Seen Way To Stem Credit Squeeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — Signs of a credit squeeze similar to the one last year that forced homebuilding into a tailspin are increasing—and both Johnson administration and industry officials insist only a tax increase can head it off.

Many of the symptoms match last year's and they began developing before the Federal Reserve Board raised the discount rate from 4 to 4½ per cent in reacting to devaluation of the British pound.

This is the rate charged by the Federal Reserve for money borrowed by commercial banks. Other interest rates are pegged upward from it.

But since then the government has reported other indications of tightening money, especially for mortgages.

January could be a key month for mortgage lenders and homebuilders.

The end of the year also marks the end of a dividend period at savings and loan associations and institutions at that time could face a possible withdrawal of deposits for investments paying higher interest.

This trend last year led to sharp reductions in the growth of savings at S&Ls, the largest single source of home mortgage funds, and depressed homebuilding.

There have been these indications of tightening mortgage money the past few days:

—The Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported an increase in interest rates on conventional home loans to 6.38 per cent for new houses during October. It was the second straight monthly rise although still below the record 6.49 per cent of last December.

—The board also reported the smallest October gain in savings by S&Ls for that month since 1960, except for last year when deposits actually declined.

—Loan commitments by S&Ls —an indication of future homebuilding—are showing signs of slowing with such pledges down during September and October.

—The Federal National Mortgage Association reduced the price it will pay for mortgages it buys in its secondary market operations. This was done to conserve the agency's resources.

Fannie Mae, as the mortgage agency is called, buys from bankers mortgages they hold which are insured by the Federal Housing Administration or guaranteed by the Veterans Administration.

Bankers use the money they obtain from Fannie Mae to approve new mortgages.

Purchases by Fannie Mae have been heavy in recent months and are now above $80 million a week, a pace which could exhaust its resources by the end of the year, officials said.

This pace is also indicative of a potential money squeeze. When bankers are unable to sell their mortgages privately—to a mutual savings bank for example—they turn to Fannie Mae for help.

Tobacco Industry Discounts New Report About Cigarettes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Tobacco Institute, spokesman for the nation's tobacco industry, discounts as meaningless a new government report listing the tar and nicotine content of 59 kinds and sizes of cigarettes.

And two of the five Federal Trade Commission members also questioned the validity of the findings.

The report said Marvel filter cigarettes had the least tar and nicotine. It said the brand with the most tar content was the nonfilter, king-size Chesterfield, and the one with the most nicotine was the same type Raleigh.

The Tobacco Institute said the rankings meant nothing because there is "no scientifically established relationship between tar and nicotine levels and human health."

The institute added that "smoking to a 30 millimeter butt length, as recommended by most tobacco companies and two of the FTC commissioners, should have been the basis for the test."

And, the institute said, while there are more than 150 kinds and sizes of cigarettes made in this country, only 59 were tested.

Chairman Paul Rand Dixon of the FTC and A. Everette MacIntyre, another commission member, in questioning the validity of the findings, said there should have been greater uniformity in the butt lengths to which the same cigarettes were smoked.

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., of the consumer subcommittee of the Senate Commerce Committee, made the report public.

Magnuson hit out at the new 100-millimeter cigarettes as a "serious backward step." He said they "represent added tar and nicotine and escalate the hazards of smoking."

Ration Boxes Carry Notes

It was "V-Mail" in World War II — flimsy little air mail envelope - letters from Europe and the Pacific.

It's "C-Mail" today — pieces of cardboard from C ration boxes, and Pfc. Sterling Hanselman, 20, of 919 W. 8th St. is startling the local postmen with his unique correspondence.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Hanselman and a 1965 graduate of East Liverpool High School, Hanselman has sent three of the 3-by-6-inch pieces of ration boxes in the last two weeks.

"I have only a short time to write because we are on the move quite a bit around here," was scrawled on one side of the latest. On the other side is printed "MEAL, COMBAT INDIVIDUAL, Ham And Eggs."

Hanselman is a rifleman with the 198th Infantry Regt., and apparently busy on search and destroy missions. "There sure are a lot of mountains and I think they have in mind for us to climb all of them," he commented on cardboard. Written hurriedly on the front, to the right of MEAL, COMBAT INDIVIDUAL, is "Could use 4 pair of Boy Scout socks, summer kind that are long."

Hanselman doesn't write adversely about the C rations which provide his main fare and writing materials. A helicopter flies in hot cooked meals, but he terms them "the worst of the day."

Symptoms Match Last Year's

Tax Increase Seen Way To Stem Credit Squeeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — Signs of a credit squeeze similar to the one last year that forced homebuilding into a tailspin are increasing—and both Johnson administration and industry officials insist only a tax increase can head it off.

Many of the symptoms match last year's and they began developing before the Federal Reserve Board raised the discount rate from 4 to 4½ per cent in reacting to devaluation of the British pound.

This is the rate charged by the Federal Reserve for money borrowed by commercial banks. Other interest rates are pegged upward from it.

But since then the government has reported other indications of tightening money, especially for mortgages.

January could be a key month for mortgage lenders and homebuilders.

The end of the year also marks the end of a dividend period at savings and loan associations and institutions at that time could face a possible withdrawal of deposits for investments paying higher interest.

This trend last year led to sharp reductions in the growth of savings at S&Ls, the largest single source of home mortgage funds, and depressed homebuilding.

There have been these indications of tightening mortgage money the past few days:

—The Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported an increase in interest rates on conventional home loans to 6.38 per cent for new houses during October. It was the second straight monthly rise although still below the record 6.49 per cent of last December.

—The board also reported the smallest October gain in savings by S&Ls for that month since 1960, except for last year when deposits actually declined.

—Loan commitments by S&Ls —an indication of future homebuilding—are showing signs of slowing with such pledges down during September and October.

—The Federal National Mortgage Association reduced the price it will pay for mortgages it buys in its secondary market operations. This was done to conserve the agency's resources.

Fannie Mae, as the mortgage agency is called, buys from bankers mortgages they hold which are insured by the Federal Housing Administration or guaranteed by the Veterans Administration.

Bankers use the money they obtain from Fannie Mae to approve new mortgages.

Purchases by Fannie Mae have been heavy in recent months and are now above $80 million a week, a pace which could exhaust its resources by the end of the year, officials said.

This pace is also indicative of a potential money squeeze. When bankers are unable to sell their mortgages privately—to a mutual savings bank for example—they turn to Fannie Mae for help.
